Ike-Backers Hand Defeat To Farm Bloc

Cotton, Corn, Peanuts Denied Rigid Supports In First Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—An election-year farm bill already stripped of rigid price supports for cotton, corn and peanuts faced further rewriting in the Senate today.

Farm bloc proposals to return to higher support levels for wheat and dairy products also were threatened by the 54-41 vote mustered by administration supporters on the initial test.

Charges of "deals" and "lobbying" interspersed debate as the senators worked until 10:16 p.m. before recessing in a confused tangle over government payments to corn farmers.

They had completed action on only two of more than 70 pending amendments, and appeared unlikely to reach a final vote before next week.

The vote on price supports was a major victory for President Eisenhower, who contended the higher supports would offset any gains from the billion-dollar soil bank proposals also included in the bill.

THIRTEEN Democrats joined 41 Republicans in voting down higher supports, with 35 Democrats and 6 Republicans on the other side.

For the first time since 1936 not a single senator was absent. Ohio's two Republican senators, Bender and Bricker, voted against the rigid supports idea.

Eisenhower was described at the White House as "delighted" by the vote, and Secretary of Agriculture Benson said he wanted to "commend the Senate highly."

In Chicago, President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation said the action if sustained would increase farmers' markets and help them "earn higher net incomes."

But Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said it "will mean a billion-dollar reduction in farm income, if the 90 per cent supports on wheat go out too." He conceded that was likely.

The farm bloc sought to restore price supports on basic crops at 90 per cent of parity, and to scrap Eisenhower's plan adopted in 1954, for a flexible system ranging from 75 to 90 per cent. Parity (Continued on Page Two)

Bus Boycott Nets Donation For Whites

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Mayor W. A. Gayle says any contributions would be welcomed to help city buses out of a financial problem brought on by a Negro boycott over segregated seating.

He made the statement after announcing that Sunday service will be discontinued this Sunday on 12 of the 14 city bus routes because the passenger load hasn't warranted continued operations.

Gayle said he received a $35 money order from an anonymous group of 53 persons in Atlanta to be used in the "valiant struggle to maintain segregation in city buses."

An unsigned letter accompanying it said the Atlanta group is working to promote additional support "of your cause" in the belief that "the struggle in Montgomery... will act as a predecessor of future segregation issues in the South."

The mayor said he also received a $1 check from Atlanta.

Since the boycott began Dec. 5, the company has discontinued service along most predominantly Negro routes and has hiked fares from 10 cents to 15 cents.

Unofficial sources estimate the boycott has cut the bus company's revenue by half.

Our Congressmen Air Odd Subjects

While Legislating, Solons Tell Of Boiled Peanuts And Irishmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Did you ever eat a boiled peanut?

Can you name the American town that charges people $5 for making an after-dinner speech?

Do you know what the Irishman said to the recruiting sergeant?

No? Come to Congress, then.

You'll learn all sorts of fascinating facts. (maybe even qualify for the $64,000 Question) without so much as leaving your seat.

In one session this week, as the Congressional Record dutifully reports, a House member who kept his ears open could have heard from a fellow member that:

Ravenswood, W. Va., tosses an annual fund-raising dinner "for which everyone pays $5 whether he comes to eat, to sing, to dance, to cook, to wash dishes, or if he is the honored speaker."

Rep. Burnside (D-WVa) is the authority for this one. He says the accumulated $5 bills have bought the town all manner of things, from baseball uniforms to football bleachers.

SEN. BARKLEY (D-Ky) is in Ravenswood's corner too. He commands upwards of $1,000 a speech on the lecture platform but he happily forked over $5 for the privilege of addressing Ravenswood.

This kind of money is not peanuts—a fact that may or may not have reminded Rep. Grant (D-Ala) that this is National Peanut Week. Grant observed the occasion by asking his fellow lawmakers:

"Have you ever eaten boiled peanuts? If not, you have really missed something."

Grant didn't boil any peanuts to prove his point but another friend of the peanut, Rep. Abitt (D-Va) did the next best thing. He placed a supply of roasted peanuts in the House cloak-rooms for members to munch.

It took Rep. Yates (D-Tll), however, to unshuck the story about the Irishman.

Yates is concerned about discrimination against older people in employment.

"Men and women," he said, "are lying about their age today to get jobs—like the Irishman who burst into the recruiting office the day after Pearl Harbor and said he wanted to enlist. 'How old are you?' asked the recruiting sergeant. 'Forty-one,' replied the applicant. 'I'm sorry, I can't use you,' said the sergeant. 'We can't take people who are over 38.'"

"Next day the Irishman was back. 'Sergeant,' he said, 'I made a mistake yesterday. My age is 38. Sure, it's my old mother what's 41.'"

12 Men Join Drum-Bugle Corps; Local Drill Group To Continue

Circleville's fast-stepping American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps will continue to march as a unit.

Twelve new members Thursday night answered the corps' "urgent call" for new blood to bolster the group's membership. The corps now has about 35 members, according to Jim Shea, publicity director.

Shea said "officials and members of the corps are tickled" because of the big turnout, and the group promises "to perform so as to be a real credit to the local community."

The group, which had been losing members during the last several months and failing to recruit new musicians, sounded a warning last week that the end of the organization would come unless there was a sizeable increase in membership.

SHEA SAID "Members of the corps feel that the good membership turnout Thursday was due in great part to the publicity given by the Herald about the group's plight. We all share in the deep gratitude for this cooperation."

At the "reorganization" meeting Thursday, new music was distributed and uniforms and equipment given to the new members.

In order to meet complaint, against too many practice sessions and engagements, Jim Morrison corps commander, has promised the group will make a drastic reduction in both of these.

The corps' next appearance will be May 6 in Chillicothe on "Hospital Day." The next Circleville engagement for the organization will be on Memorial Day, May 30.

New members of the corps are: Bob Mills, Lloyd Brittinger, Lowell Ferguson, Bob Moeller and Dick Redman, all of Circleville; Douglas Glitt and Jerry Leist, of Stoutsville; Orlando Brown and George L. Nicholson of Ashville; George N. Kern and Bob Kern of Mt. Sterling; and Richard Belleperche of Columbus.

Blood Donor Turnout May Reach Quota

Pickaway Countians will be out to increase the number of blood donations when the Red Cross bloodmobile visits Circleville next Monday.

A total of 128 pints was collected during the Feb. 2 visit. J. K. LaFontaine, blood program chairman, said there was a good chance that the community's goal of 150 pints might be reached this time.

The bloodmobile will be located at the First Methodist Church, Main and Pickaway Streets. Donors may visit between 11 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Donors may either make an appointment by calling 336 or walk in any time the bloodmobile is open. LaFontaine noted that "the success of the project depends largely on the number of people who come in without an appointment."

The local Red Cross blood program committee is expecting a large turnout Monday, LaFontaine added.

Woman Minister Faces New Trial

CLEVELAND (AP)—A woman minister will be tried again in April on charges she illegally practiced medicine.

A municipal court jury yesterday could not reach a unanimous verdict on whether the Rev. Gladys B. Heine, 66, minister of the New Thought Temple, violated the law.

Two women testified she had manipulated their spines and collected fees. But Mrs. Heine said this was not true, that she treated by faith alone.

Mike Anguilano, jury foreman, said the jurors voted 11 to 1 for conviction.

U. S. Disarmament Policies Changed

Cut In Manpower Abandoned; Nuclear Weapon Curb Stressed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has drastically revised U. S. disarmament policy to meet what officials conceive to be the needs of the hydrogen bomb age.

Presidential Asst. Harold Stassen said yesterday he believes the new program will be more acceptable to Russia than was President Eisenhower's "open skies" plan for mutual aerial inspection of the two big powers when it stood alone.

In this respect, Stassen made clear, the United States has modified its position from that which drew Soviet criticism after it was presented by Eisenhower at the summit conference last July.

Stassen will fly to London tomorrow to coordinate new U. S. disarmament proposals with representatives of Britain, France and Canada in advance of a new round of negotiations with the Soviet Union there March 19.

The new policy abandons the idea that substantial cuts in military manpower must be a primary aim of any effective disarmament agreement.

IT CONCENTRATES instead on bringing under control nuclear weapons, A-bombs and H-bombs, and on cutting back such things as bombers and missiles.

Stassen said it offers a method for reducing existing stock piles of atomic explosives even though the administration holds that it is impossible to police agreements to reduce them.

The formula provides for contributing atomic materials to an international atomic pool for peaceful purposes.

Thus, even though the United States and Russia did not know the exact size of each other's nuclear stocks, each would know how much was withdrawn and therefore the amount by which stockpiles were being cut back.

Eisenhower sketched out the main elements of the new program in a letter to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin made public Tuesday. Stassen expanded on them yesterday.

One element which remains unchanged from proposals put forth during the Truman administration is insistence that an iron-clad inspection arrangement is the first essential of any arms reduction system.

But under Eisenhower's open skies plan, this would be aimed not only at policing production of atomic materials but also at making it impossible for Russia, the United States or any other country to mobilize without detection the men and weapons needed for a surprise attack.

In this connection, a fundamental basis of the new formula apparently is that surprise attack is the key to any future aggressive war. With both this country and Russia possessing hydrogen bombs moreover, the administration seems to believe that the size of land forces becomes a secondary consideration.

Northeast Set For Bitter Cold

Parts Of Pennsylvania, New York Battle Flood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Northeast, already hit by floodwaters, snow and sleet, prepared today to cope with blizzards, freezing rain and bitter cold.

The Allegheny River and its tributaries ran rampant over communities in southwestern New York and northwestern Pennsylvania.

At least nine deaths were reported, two in New York state and seven in Canada.

High winds and swirling snow slashed Ontario, while the adjacent New England area was walloped with a 12-inch rainfall in some sections plus heavy snow blankets and sleet in others.

The waters of the Allegheny slowly retreated from low-lying portions of Warren, Pa., as some 2,000 refugees hopefully watched for a chance to return to their homes. No casualties were reported.

DAYLIGHT TODAY found the river nearly a foot below last night's crest. However reports of higher water in upstream communities of northwestern Pennsylvania and southern New York indicated it would be days before many of the 500 evacuated Warren families could get back to their homes.

Operations at Warren General Hospital, completely surrounded by the flood water, were running along an even keel. Nurses on duty during the night were taken from the hospital aboard trucks that crawled slowly through nearly three feet of water. The trucks brought in new shifts of nurses.

The flood rolled in yesterday morning with only scant notice, climbing to a 20th century record of 18.4 feet.

Flood stage in Warren, where the Conewago Creek flows into the Allegheny, is 14 feet. In the last major flood in 1947 the river reached a level of 17.4 feet and caused half a million dollars damage. Estimates were that the damage would be higher this time.

Most spectacular of the evacuations was carried on at the hospital. Boats and trucks removed more than 60 patients, about half of whom were sent to their homes and the remainder sheltered at Warren State Hospital. Through the night 34 patients remained in the hospital, all of them too ill to be moved. They had heat and light and normal services despite the water that reached into first-floor rooms.

Rhee Is Hailed

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Fifty thousand demonstrators appeared before the gate to President Syngman Rhee's mansion today and chanted demands that he run for a third term.

In Oakland, Calif., Leila Chin, 7, cries hysterically and clings to her father as he takes her to hospital.

In Los Angeles, 80 U. S. Marines from Camp Pendleton crowd into Red Cross blood bank to give blood for Leila. Her brother, Cpl. Henry Chin, 21, is the donor on the table.

TWO MORE YEARS of life are possible for 7-year-old Leila Chin of Oakland, Calif., who has suffered from leukemia for four years. Thanks go to the Leathernecks of Camp Pendleton, Calif., where her brother Henry is a wireman with H Battery, 3rd Battalion, 1st Division. Some 80 of them went to the Red Cross blood bank in Los Angeles and donated enough for the two-year supply. Leila must have two pints a month.

Dulles Meets Nehru To Hike Indian-American Relations

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived in India's capital today amid hopes his talks with Prime Minister Nehru would bolster sagging Indian-American relations. But few expect any major change in either country's policy.

The American secretary himself said on arrival that the differences between India and the United States are "relatively minor." He said his visit to Nehru was an attempt "to reduce these differences."

Nehru ordered extraordinary security precautions to prevent any anti-American demonstrations. A dozen truckloads of police were at the airport, and officers and plainclothesmen were stationed every few yards along the road the secretary took to the prime minister's home.

Nehru sent his chief foreign office aides to greet his visitor. The welcome for the American had none of the pomp and ceremony that was staged for the arrival last year of Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

PROTOCOL EXPERTS explained that India rolls out the red carpet only for top-ranking visitors who make the country their chief destination, not for dignitaries just stopping over.

They also pointed out that Nehru's absence from the airport was no reflection on Dulles. They said the prime minister goes out to meet visiting chiefs of state only.

Dulles flew here from Karachi, where with the other seven foreign ministers of the SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) nations he agreed the future of Kashmir should be settled by a U. N. plebiscite or direct negotiations between Pakistan, a SEATO member, and India.

India has steadily opposed the plebiscite. Dulles, never popular in India, was the main target of Indian papers. They viewed him as the prime mover for SEATO's Kashmir statement.

Informed sources stressed that the Dulles-Nehru talks would emphasize noncontroversial ways to improve American-Indian relations, with probably only passing reference to such continuing points of discord as SEATO, Formosa and arms aid to Pakistan.

The sources said Nehru and Dulles probably would concentrate on areas of agreement, particularly American aid to India. They speculated that this might include a joint revaluation of the aid program to make the United States a greater partner in India's second five-year plan starting April 1.

Red Bosses Set For London Visit

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev will arrive April 18 for their much discussed trip to Britain. And they will stay 10 days, two days longer than was originally planned.

Even as the Foreign Office announcement was issued, loudspeaker vans toured London blaring "keep the Red beasts out."

The protest was organized by the Non-Party League of Empire Loyalists. During their visit Bulganin and Khrushchev will hold political talks with Prime Minister Eden, be received by Queen Elizabeth II and tour farms and industrial plants.

Another Trial To Be Asked By Baldrige

Judge Denies Defense Effort To Call In Foreman Of Jury

WASHINGTON C. H. (AP)—George Baldrige, 63, convicted slayer of a game warden, today was sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the Ohio Penitentiary by Judge John P. Case.

A jury of eight men and four women late Wednesday convicted Baldrige of first degree manslaughter in the shotgun slaying of Irvin J. Patrick, 43, on the Baldrige farm last Nov. 15. Patrick was a native of Pickaway County.

Judge Case, before passing sentence, asked Baldrige if he had anything to say.

"I don't believe I have anything to say," Baldrige replied.

The defense made an attempt to subpoena jury foreman Donald Lang to testify on the statement he had asked to make as the jury prepared to deliver its verdict. The court refused Lang's request.

Judge Case rejected the defense motion calling it contrary to all court procedures and not in accordance with law.

JUDGE CASE also rejected defense counselor Emory Smith's bid to obtain bond for Baldrige.

After Baldrige was sentenced, his attorneys announced they would file a motion for a new trial tomorrow.

Baldrige was tried on a second degree murder charge. Conviction on this charge carries a life sentence with the possibility of parole after 10 years.

Yesterday, when a newsman asked Lang what he intended to say in his statement, he declined, adding:

"It wasn't of much importance anyway."

This is National Peanut Week. (What other column keeps you up-to-date on these Important Cultural Events!) That's why I chose an Elephant Droodle for today, because if it weren't for peanuts hundreds of elephants would get hungry and refuse to work in Circuses and Zoos. Peanuts are found in Georgia, Alabama and the Yankee Stadium, and are used to make many products. The only peanut products I can think of are Peanut Butter and Peanut Brittle but there must be thousands of others like Peanut Soup, Peanut Foot Powder. And if you dyed them black, peanuts would make an excellent substitute for raisins in bread. Right?

Woman Ends Sitdown In Zoning Fuss

HAMILTON (AP)—A Middletown woman's sitdown strike in the Butler County courthouse has ended, but the threat of legal repercussions remained today.

After sitting for 30 hours outside the office of county Building Commissioner Randall Coning, Mrs. Thomas Conney gave up.

Mrs. Conney took up her vigil Wednesday in protest of the issuance of a permit for erection of a one-story concrete block building across the street from her home in Dixie Heights, a residential suburb of nearby Middletown.

She claimed that Clinton Centers, the builder, planned to use the building for business purposes in violation of the building code.

And although she gave up her sitdown strike, Mrs. Conney indicated legal action may be taken in the case. She did not say what steps might be taken.

The fuss all started when Centers received a permit to erect the building, connected with his own home by a breezeway, as a dwelling. Mrs. Conney contended he intended to start an upholstery shop.

Building Commissioner Coning declared, however, the permit was for a dwelling and that "unless he violates the code, there is nothing we can do."

Centers told the Middletown Journal that he had planned to start his son in the upholstery business in the building.

The flood rolled in yesterday morning with only scant notice, climbing to a 20th century record of 18.4 feet.

Flood stage in Warren, where the Conewango Creek flows into the Allegheny, is 14 feet. In the last major flood in 1947 the river reached a level of 17.4 feet and caused half a million dollars damage. Estimates were that the damage would be higher this time.

Most spectacular of the evacuations was carried on at the hospital. Boats and trucks removed more than 60 patients, about half of whom were sent to their homes and the remainder sheltered at Warren State Hospital. Through the night 34 patients remained in the hospital, all of them too ill to be moved. They had heat and light and normal services despite the water that reached into first-floor rooms.

Northeast Set For Bitter Cold

Parts Of Pennsylvania, New York Battle Flood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Northeast, already hit by floodwaters, snow and sleet, prepared today to cope with blizzards, freezing rain and bitter cold.

The Allegheny River and its tributaries ran rampant over communities in southwestern New York and northwestern Pennsylvania.

At least nine deaths were reported, two in New York state and seven in Canada.

High winds and swirling snow slashed Ontario, while the adjacent New England area was walloped with a 12-inch rainfall in some sections plus heavy snow blankets and sleet in others.

The waters of the Allegheny slowly retreated from low-lying portions of Warren, Pa., as some 2,000 refugees hopefully watched for a chance to return to their homes. No casualties were reported.

DAYLIGHT TODAY found the river nearly a foot below last night's crest. However reports of higher water in upstream communities of northwestern Pennsylvania and southern New York indicated it would be days before many of the 500 evacuated Warren families could get back to their homes.

Operations at Warren General Hospital, completely surrounded by the flood water, were running along an even keel. Nurses on duty during the night were taken from the hospital aboard trucks that crawled slowly through nearly three feet of water. The trucks brought in new shifts of nurses.

Dulles Meets Nehru To Hike Indian-American Relations

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived in India's capital today amid hopes his talks with Prime Minister Nehru would bolster sagging Indian-American relations. But few expect any major change in either country's policy.

The American secretary himself said on arrival that the differences between India and the United States are "relatively minor." He said his visit to Nehru was an attempt "to reduce these differences."

Nehru ordered extraordinary security precautions to prevent any anti-American demonstrations. A dozen truckloads of police were at the airport, and officers and plainclothesmen were stationed every few yards along the road the secretary took to the prime minister's home.

Nehru sent his chief foreign office aides to greet his visitor. The welcome for the American had none of the pomp and ceremony that was staged for the arrival last year of Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

PROTOCOL EXPERTS explained that India rolls out the red carpet only for top-ranking visitors who make the country their chief destination, not for dignitaries just stopping over.

They also pointed out that Nehru's absence from the airport was no reflection on Dulles. They said the prime minister goes out to meet visiting chiefs of state only.

Dulles flew here from Karachi, where with the other seven foreign ministers of the SEATO (South-east Asia Treaty Organization) nations he agreed the future of Kashmir should be settled by a U. N. plebiscite or direct negotiations.

Even as the Foreign Office announcement was issued, loudspeaker vans toured London blaring "keep the Red beasts out." The protest was organized by the Non-Party League of Empire Loyalists.

During their visit Bulganin and Khrushchev will hold political talks with Prime Minister Eden, be received by Queen Elizabeth II and tour farms and industrial plants.

Another Trial To Be Asked By Baldrige

Judge Denies Defense Effort To Call In Foreman Of Jury

WASHINGTON C. H. (AP)—George Baldrige, 63, convicted slayer of a game warden, today was sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the Ohio Penitentiary by Judge John P. Case.

A jury of eight men and four women late Wednesday convicted Baldrige of first degree manslaughter in the shotgun slaying of Irvin J. Patrick, 43, on the Baldrige farm last Nov. 15. Patrick was a native of Pickaway County.

Judge Case, before passing sentence, asked Baldrige if he had anything to say.

"I don't believe I have anything to say," Baldrige replied.

The defense made an attempt to subpoena jury foreman Donald Lang to testify on the statement he had asked to make as the jury prepared to deliver its verdict. The court refused Lang's request.

Judge Case rejected the defense motion calling it contrary to all court procedures and not in accordance with law.

JUDGE CASE also rejected defense counselor Emory Smith's bid to obtain bond for Baldrige.

After Baldrige was sentenced, his attorneys announced they would file a motion for a new trial tomorrow.

Baldrige was tried on a second degree murder charge. Conviction on this charge carries a life sentence with the possibility of parole after 10 years.

Yesterday, when a newsman asked Lang what he intended to add in his statement, he declined, adding:

"It wasn't of much importance anyway."

Athens Judge's Son Is Accused

ATHENS (AP)—Larry White, 13, son of Athens County Common Pleas Judge Francis White, was jailed today for investigation of thefts from courthouse offices.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Shields said no charges have been filed pending consultation with the prosecuting attorney's office.

The deputy sheriff said the investigation centers around the theft of $37 from the offices of Clerk of Courts Phyllis L. Cross and from the vehicle title office.

DROODLES By ROGER PRICE

This is National Peanut Week. (What other column keeps you up-to-date on these Important Cultural Events!) That's why I chose an Elephant Droodle for today, because if it weren't for peanuts hundreds of elephants would get hungry and refuse to work in Circuses and Zoos. Peanuts are found in Georgia, Alabama and the Yankee Stadium, and are used to make many products. The only peanut products I can think of are Peanut Butter and Peanut Brittle but there must be thousands of others like Peanut Soup, Peanut Guided Missile Fuel and Peanut Foot Powder. And if you dyed them black, peanuts would make an excellent substitute for raisins in bread. Right?

Sheriff Radcliff Will Again Head Easter Seal Fund Raising Drive

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff will again head the month-long Pickaway County Easter Seal Drive, according to an announcement today by the Rev. Fred Ketter, president of the county's Easter Seal Society.

The fund raising campaign officially starts on Saturday and will continue until April 10. This marks the third year Sheriff Radcliff has been campaign chairman and the Rev. Mr. Ketter referred to him as "one of the county's most prominent civic leaders."

At the same time, the Rev. Mr. Ketter announced the names of other key persons:

Mrs. Charles Walker—she will serve as general chairman of the Easter Lily parades which will be staged all over the county on March 24;

George McDowell—he is county superintendent of schools, has been named as special events chairman and will also head the Easter Seal program in the county schools;

SHERIFF RADCLIFF will have the responsibility of placing the Crippled Children's Society coin containers in business establishments throughout the area.

(The sheriff recalled that two years ago when he was also in charge someone rifled a coin container. Sheriff Radcliff said he was so incensed that he used all means possible to capture the culprit.)

All of the chairman said that the success of the campaign depends on everyone's "contribution," rather than just one person or one group. They pointed out that the main aim of the drive is to maintain and promote greater services for the area's crippled children.

Easter Seals will be mailed out Friday to more than 6,000 Pickaway Counties, according to the Rev. Mr. Ketter. The seals are bright red and blue and feature a white lily, symbol of the Easter Seal Society. There is also a picture of a crippled child and the slogan, "Easter Seals Help Crippled Children."

The pastor said that 76 percent of all funds collected will remain in the county for local use. He noted that the contributions in the 35th annual appeal will be used to supply equipment for the county's crippled children.

"Crippled children are so helpless," the pastor said. "This is something that strikes close to home. Please make your contributions as generous as possible."

5 Democratic Aspirants Talk About Lausche

COLUMBUS (AP)—All five candidates for the Democratic nomination for Ohio governor came together on the same speakers platform last night and the common topic of discussion was outgoing Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

The lineup was two for Lausche, two against and one noncommittal.

Speaking before a meeting of the Franklin County Democratic executive committee were: Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo Mayor; Municipal Judge John E. Sweeney, Cleveland; Frank X. Kryzan, Youngstown; Robert W. Reider, Oak Harbor, and Oscar Fleckner, Bexley.

DiSalle said the Democratic state standard bearer next November will "be charged with continuing and projecting the program of Gov. Lausche."

Sweeney praised Lausche and promised if elected to continue "the good and honest government we have had for the last ten years."

Kryzan said he did not intend to criticize the governor but "there is only one Frank J. Lausche and we could only stand one in a lifetime."

Reider, a bitter critic of Lausche and the state organization, said: "I am tired of the hypocrisy and double-talk in state government." Fleckner took no side.

State Auditor Compliments Darby District

Darby local school district has received a big pat on the back from State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes complimented the school district for "reflecting a very excellent compliance with the laws and the accounting system required."

"This was on the basis of a state examiner's report," Brice Connell, clerk of the school district, was singled out by Rhodes. The state auditor commented that Connell "is to be congratulated on your work as clerk."

Rhodes also paid tribute to "the very fine manner in which they have conducted the affairs of Darby by local school district. The people of your school district can rest assured that from an examination of the records by this office their school administration is in capable hands."

His comments were all made in a letter to Connell which was revealed today.

Book Dealer's Death May Be Homicide

COLUMBUS (AP)—Police investigating the mysterious death of a Columbus second-hand book dealer today said they were "leaning toward the theory of homicide."

The victim, William Harmon Hukill, 46, was found dead yesterday on a cot in the living quarters of his store.

Police said Hukill's face and hands were covered with blood. They said an autopsy indicated Hukill suffered a brain hemorrhage, fractures of several ribs and numerous cuts and abrasions. But police said the shop showed no signs of a struggle.

Westinghouse Strike Starts 145th Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike drifted into its 145th day today with company, union and government mediators apparently all uncertain of what peace move to try next.

Company negotiators returned to Pittsburgh last night, saying they had no plans for bargaining.

A government-proposed peace plan submitted last Saturday was accepted without reservation by company Tuesday but the union, refusing an outright yes or no reply, said it wanted somewhat better terms. The company called that a rejection.

Officials of the Federal Mediation Service said they had not learned from James B. Carey, president of the striking International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), precisely what further concessions he wants.

The settlement plan was drafted by a three-man federal mediation panel which has said it will stand pat on its recommendations as fair to both sides. The company termed its acceptance a "final offer."

Carey reported he wants 36 discharged strikers who are accused of strike violence restored to their jobs outright without recommendation of arbitration of the charges.

He also insisted on greater assurances from the company against pay or work opportunity losses for workers who may be transferred from an incentive, or piece rate pay basis, to a straight day work pay system. The company said it needed certain latitude to shift its production methods from time to time.

Group Interested In 'Y' Project Plan Meet After Easter

A mass meeting of all groups in the area interested in the establishment of a Young Men's Christian Association may be held after Easter.

This announcement was made today by Ed Webb, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce following a special meeting of his group Thursday night. The Jaycees, who have backed the proposal with a fund of $250, are working in close cooperation with the Pickaway County Ministerial Association, which provided the original push for the movement.

Webb said it was decided to contact the YMCA area secretary, who has already promised to appear here, and find a suitable date. He added that it was felt there would be too much other activity before Easter.

Man Fined On 'Obscene' Charge Now Bound Over To Grand Jury

A Columbus salesman, convicted Thursday of possessing obscene literature, was back in jail today on two other charges.

Scott B. Campbell, 61, was bound over to the Pickaway County grand jury on accusations similar to the first one.

Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb set bond at $2,500 on each of the two charges. On Thursday, Judge Lamb had fined Campbell $250.

City police said that after Campbell paid the fine, he left—only to return a few hours later. Officers said he requested some of the merchandise which had been confiscated from his auto upon his arrest.

POLICE SAID they became suspicious of a huge carton Campbell particularly wanted. The officers detained him and investigated the carton, discovering articles which led to the two additional charges.

is a standard fixed by law as far to farmers in relation to their costs.

An amendment by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) to let corn farmers share in the soil bank payments without cutting production awaited action when the Senate quit last night.

Humphrey declared that the administration had made a "deal on corn to help reelect Republican senators in three states—Hickenlooper in Iowa, Capehart in Indiana and Dirksen in Illinois."

"AND YET, to make it, they had to violate every principle the President and Secretary Benson have advocated," he added.

He contended the action would tend to increase, rather than decrease, the surplus of corn.

Sen. Anderson (D-MN), who helped defeat the move to restore rigid supports, said he hoped the Senate would follow through by knocking out special support programs for wheat, rice and dairy products.

"Instead they brought up this corn amendment which comes near to open bribery in the Senate," he said.

A similar charge of "deal" was made concerning Benson's suggestion that cotton prices could be supported at 86 or 87 percent of parity with no new cut in cotton acreage if the administration plan was approved.

Sen. Young (R-SD), fighting for 90 percent supports, said, "I have never seen anything like it in my experience in the Senate."

On the House side, Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) said "it looks like grounds for impeachment" of Benson.

Hickenlooper's amendment would permit farmers in the commercial corn belt to share in soil bank payments and government price supports and still plant some 56 million acres to corn.

The allotment now fixed for this year is 43 million acres, but in recent years many corn farmers have ignored government pleas for acreage reductions.

Hickenlooper and others said the sharp cut required would keep most corn farmers out of the soil bank and price supports. He urged the 13-million-acre increase to let them participate if they agreed to put part of their croplands, not necessarily corn land, in the soil bank.

Wallace Explains Role He Played In Dog Killing Trial

Ralph Wallace, Pickaway County Humane Officer, today clarified the role he played in the case of a man who was convicted of beating a puppy to death.

Wallace said he testified at the trial, held in Municipal Court, and also advised on the filing of the affidavit. The man was fined and given a suspended jail term after admitting that he smashed the dog's head on a dresser top in a fit of anger at a step-daughter.

The Humane Officer said also that he buried the puppy.

Civil Defense Alerted As Rivers Rises

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Civil Defense has been alerted to flood dangers along the Ohio River from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said no serious floods were expected, but that the river would crest at from one to five feet above flood stage.

In Portsmouth the river is rising at the rate of four tenths of a foot an hour and City Engineer Chester S. Stevenson said the first of the city's seven flood pumps would be placed in operation today. The river is expected to crest there at 52-53 feet later this week.

In Cincinnati, a 53-foot crest, one foot above flood stage, is expected Tuesday morning.

A crest of 36-37 feet, four to five feet above flood stage, is predicted in East Liverpool tonight. A 37 foot crest is not expected to cause much damage but will force evacuation of about 125 families from New Cumberland, W. Va., and another 75 in Stratton, Port Homer and Empire, Ohio, which are downstream from East Liverpool.

In Marietta, the river stood at 33.6 feet at 7 a. m., two feet under flood stage.

Army Engineers report the river is rising 2 of a foot an hour and they predict the crest will come at 38 feet around noon tomorrow.

Education In City Called 'Good Job' At Rotary Meeting

"Circleville is doing a good job in the education of children," city schools superintendent George Hartman told the Rotary Club at its weekly Thursday meeting.

"We have a good staff of teachers," he said. "We will soon have an excellent group of buildings, and we also have a good board of education to work with."

Hartman added, however, that the nation is facing a serious problem in education. He noted that schools are doing a job of mass education while trying to keep students in school until they reach the age of 18.

"High school should be appreciated by the students," he explained. "It should not be considered a place that is necessary for them to go to."

Panel Endorses General PTA; Proposals Made To Bolster Unit

Discussing "The Future of the General Parent-Teachers Association," a panel agreed that the group should continue but that some measures to strengthen the organization should be adopted.

The panel discussion was the feature attraction of the monthly meeting of the general PTA held Thursday in the social rooms of the high school.

Approximately 100 PTA members were present at the meeting to make it the best-attended session of the year. The 100-total, however, is still considerably short of the estimated 500 who are members of the organization.

The topic for the panel was chosen because the general PTA has been plagued by poor attendance and the suggestion was made to discontinue with the general monthly meetings. The proposal evoked some strong protests although there were those who felt the idea had merit.

AMONG THE suggestions made during the panel discussions was to hold the general meetings every two months instead of monthly, beginning next Fall.

A second idea brought out was to allow each of the five elementary PTA Groups to have complete charge of one general session program, once a year. In this way, it was felt that there would be more interest from parents in the local groups.

A third suggestion to stem sagging attendance is that the executive board, consisting of 16 members, hold its meetings at each of the elementary schools in round-robin fashion instead of only at the high school as is the present policy.

The theory here, according to Mrs. George Gerhardt, public relations secretary of the PTA, is that more members would be in personal contact with the executive board thereby causing more interest among members.

Another suggestion made was that a questionnaire be sent to parents and teachers as to the type of program they would be interested in having at the general meeting.

ALL THESE proposals and others, will be submitted to the executive board for possible action. Hopes are that the entire PTA system in Circleville can be strengthened from the very foundation to make the Association a strong one, said Mrs. Gerhardt.

In expressing his opinion, School Board member Bob Brehmer Jr. said the school board members are grateful to the PTA for "its work in the past and especially for the clinic it operates for the first graders." He went on to say that the board members are very appreciative for the strong support given by the PTA in getting the school-building bond issue passed.

He summarized his statements saying "A PTA here is very valuable to the educational system and should continue."

Members of the panel were: Brehmer, Mrs. Allen Ankrom, Mrs. Carl Snider, and Mrs. Dick Robinson. Frank Marion, program chairman, served as moderator. The Rev. John Hurst, who was to serve as a panel member, was unable to attend the meeting because of illness.

During the meeting, opened by Darrell Hatfield who gave the invocation, Forest Brown, president, appointed a nominating committee to draw up a slate of candidates for the April elections.

MEMBERS OF the committee are: Mrs. Robert Hutzelman, chairman; Mrs. John O'Hara, Mrs. George Gerhardt, and J. L. Chilcote.

Refreshments were served by the high school PTA group with Mrs. Winship Story in charge.

WASHINGTON (AP)—This will be a pretty mild presidential campaign if the Democrats follow the line taken by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), whom they picked to reply to President Eisenhower.

It would go like this:

Clobber Eisenhower's aides but mix any criticism of Eisenhower himself with nice words; even praise him; make attacks on him more oblique than frontal; and blame him for sins of omission rather than those of commission.

The Democrats are in a dilemma with Eisenhower. And it seemed to peep through Sparkman's talk this week. He took to the airwaves in reply to Eisenhower's Feb. 29 broadcast dealing with his health and his running again.

This is the dilemma:

How to handle a president who is so popular and has the widest sympathy and good will after his heart attack. Roughing up a national hero not in perfect health could lose votes.

By this time any other president, in office as long as Eisenhower, would be full of welts from opposition clubbing. There'd be no surprise in giving him more of the same when the campaign began.

But the Democrats haven't treated Eisenhower like that for most of his time in the White House. They have handled him as if he were marked: "Fragile: Use No Hooks."

Eisenhower, no professional politician himself, could give the press lessons if you accept this definition of a successful politician: one who gets much done he wants done while retaining maximum popularity to carry into the next election.

From the beginning of his presidency Eisenhower, deliberately or by nature, put himself above the rough-and-tumble of politics. Making no personal attacks, he has given others a minimum excuse for attacking him personally.

During these past three years angry Democrats may have wanted to hit Eisenhower directly but most of the time they aimed their fire at the men around him. If there were casualties, they didn't include Eisenhower.

Here are some phrases from Sparkman's talk:

"Our political differences will never lessen . . . personal regard (for him). . . . We respect Mr. Eisenhower for the candor he has shown (about his health) in his report to the people. . . . We thank him for his frank explanation."

Sparkman put his emphasis on Eisenhower's health, as was to be expected, since Eisenhower a week before had devoted his own broadcast to it. Sparkman indicated the Democrats will make the President's health a major issue.

Sparkman argued that Eisenhower, because of his health, couldn't be a full-time president in a job that needs full time. Eisenhower, he said, has had to dump some of his most critical duties on his aides and must continue to do so.

He slammed the aides and opened up on the administration, not so much for what it did but what he said it failed to do. For instance: letting the Middle East

TV Due To Carry Premier Of 'Richard III' On Sunday

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Sir Laurence Olivier's three-hour British film production of Shakespeare's "Richard III" has its American premiere on NBC-TV Sunday afternoon. It is the most significant single television program event of the past year.

The general facts about the presentation have been well publicized. It is the longest single program ever shown on the home screen. It's the most costly; $500,000 reportedly is the price NBC paid Sir Laurence. It unquestionably has the most impressive cast of English actors ever assembled. British critics say it is Olivier's best film work.

But most significant is the fact that for the first time television has entered into competition with motion picture houses by offering a major film to a potential audience of many millions before it is available in a theater. In fact, the film will make its theater debut in New York a few hours after it ends on the TV home screen.

Many movie distributors are crying over this one. The movie industry is watching its results alertly. Holding in mind that old reservation about the accuracy of audience ratings, it will be interesting to see what sort of an audience "Richard III" attracts and holds on NBC-TV. But the most significant result will not be apparent for some time until figures will be available on its movie house attendance.

Then it will be possible to determine with some accuracy—and for the first time—whether TV actually can usurp a motion picture theater audience.

Legal Fees High In Actor's Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lawyers' fees and court costs in the eight years of litigation over the William S. Hart estate have reached a total of $378,000.

The actor died in 1946. He left his 1½ million dollar ranch in Newhall to Los Angeles County. Harold W. Kennedy, county counsel, says that all deductions, including maintenance and taxes, have brought the value of the ranch to about $890,000.

The actor's son, William S. Hart Jr., sued to invalidate the will but the Superior Court ruled against him. An appeal is pending.

Senate Approves Farm Tax Refund

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has finally passed a bill asked by President Eisenhower to relieve farmers from paying the two-cent-a-gallon federal tax on gasoline used in farming.

The measure now goes back to the House for consideration of a Senate amendment.

The bill would mean an estimated savings to farmers of about $60 million a year. It would be effective on all gas bought starting Jan. 1 this year. Farmers would pay the tax at the time of purchase but could apply annually for refunds.

Meningitis Case Closes Schools

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The school at Mt. Orab and the Green-Sterling elementary school will be closed until March 19 because a 14-year-old boy died yesterday of spinal meningitis.

Dr. W. L. Faul, Brown County health commissioner, ordering the closing of the schools after Terrance Boys, a 14-year-old freshman at Mt. Orab died.

Dr. Faul closed the Green-Sterling school because the boy had ridden on a bus hauling children to that school.

Ohio State University agronomists will conduct two question and answer periods, one on grain crops and one on forage crops, as a part of their Farm and Home Week Program. A Pickaway County farmer will be among the featured speakers.

Officials plan a full schedule of talks and discussions March 20 and 21 and a special Youth Day program March 22. Most sessions will be in Townshend Hall on the university campus.

Extension Agronomist E. P. Reed will direct a March 20 question and answer session on grain crops, and Earl Jones, extension agronomist, one on forage crops March 21.

Speakers will discuss such subjects as weed control, corn production practices, winter cover crops in corn, factors involved in maximum corn production, rates and placement of fertilizer, saving rainfall for crop use and how to produce high quality silage.

In the afternoon of March 20 John Dunlap, Pickaway county farmer, will tell how he built up phosphorus and potash reserves in his soil.

G. W. Volk, chairman of the department of agronomy, and members of his staff will direct the youth session. They will discuss job opportunities in the agronomy field and conduct a tour of agronomy demonstrations in Townshend Hall and the Horticulture and Forestry building.

Covault's entry, a Yorkshire, had placed 9th in breed competition in London. The 209-pound animal had a cut-out value of $17.16 per 100 pounds live weight, based on February 27 whole-sale pork prices in Columbus. The winning carcass carried 1.5 inches of back fat and had a dressing percentage of 76.9. Of the barrow's adjusted live weight, 52.2 percent was made up of primal cuts—ham, loin, belly and shoulder.

Herbert Litt, Bellville, owned the second place carcass and James Brake, also of Bellville, the third place entry. Both barrows were Yorkshires. Litt's animal had a cut-out value of $17.07 and Brake's $16.78.

The grand champion of the London show, a Poland China shown by Donald Stauffer, Ashland, ranked 24th in the carcass ratings. Its carcass had a cut-out value of $16.07.

Jesus Interprets History

CHRIST PROPHECIES THE COURSE AND END OF AN AGE

Scripture—Luke 17:20-21; 21:5-38.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN A RECENT lesson we studied the prophetic statement about the coming of the kingdom of God in answer to the demand of the Pharisees, ending with the statement that "the Kingdom of God is within you." That was a burning question of the day. When would the Messiah come, bringing with him the kingdom of God on earth? However, the Pharisees had already renounced the Messiah sent to them, and would shortly put an end to His life on earth.

The disciples must have known that Jesus' enemies would put Him to death as soon as possible, but, looking at the temple in Jerusalem, they spoke to Him of its beauty—the decorations of precious stones and the gifts it contained. Jesus replied "the days will come in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down."

When they asked Christ when

"And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh."
Now, nearly 2,000 years after this prophecy by our Lord, our world seems in greater turmoil than ever. Many people have prophesied the end of the world since then, and have awaited its coming, and felt that a millennium was not far away. We have survived two great wars and there is now great unrest all over the world. How will it all end? Will Christ come soon and establish His kingdom?

At the end of His discourse, Christ said, "Heaven and earth shall pass away; but My words shall not pass away."

How true that is! The words of Jesus are more often remembered and quoted than those of any man on the face of the earth. We comfort ourselves with them in sorrow and adversity; we strive to guide our lives by them. Let us also remember Jesus' warnings as to our conduct until the time of this would be. He replied, warning them not to allow themselves to be deceived, for many would follow Him saying they were Christ, but His disciples should not heed them.

When they heard of wars and commotions, nations rising against nations, great natural upheavals such as earthquakes, famines and pestilences, also great signs from heaven, even when they were persecuted in the synagogues and cast into prison, they should "in your patience possess ye your souls," because "shall not an heir of your head perish?"

This discourse of the Lord's on Tuesday of Holy week was the last day on which He spoke to assembled groups except to the disciples. After all the terrors of this day of judgment, Christ foretold, "And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory."

GET MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

WITH A
JOHN DEERE PLOW

HERE ARE THREE of the many reasons why you'll get more for your money in a John Deere Plow:

1. No other plow design combines shock-absorbing strength, rigid alignment, and trash-shedding clearance so effectively as John Deere Truss-Frame design.
2. No plow is more precisely adaptable to soil and working conditions than a John Deere with its wide range of easily made "fine line" adjustments.
3. No plow bottoms can beat John Deere High-Speed Light-Draft Bottoms (available only on John Deere Plows) for fast, good work plus fuel and plow-share economy.

Don't deny yourself these and the many other advantages of owning a John Deere Plow. Come in soon for complete information.

Bible Words To Live By

2 PETER 1:9 — "The man whose life fails to exhibit these qualities is shortsighted—he can no longer see the reason why he was cleansed from his former sins." (Phillips — "Letters to Young Churches")

The writer of this epistle had been speaking of goodness, a goodness that is accompanied by knowledge — spiritual knowledge — giving the believer an ability to endure as a real soldier of the Cross of Christ. Obviously if one endures, as a Christian, in days like the ones in which we are now living, one must have a real trust in God. That, in turn, observes the apostle, causes the believer to exhibit a deep quality of brotherliness, born of love.

Men make the patterns of life, therefore God give us men with a vision to see and understand God on the higher level of the soul. This done our future is assured.

Peter tells us if we do not observe this simple, trusting rule of God, we are short-sighted. Surely we do not want to be short-sighted, but men of God with a vision for a whole world in Christian Love. This would make hate sink into insignificance.

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A MODERN END TABLE

A modern end table can be made from two 1 by 6-inch boards, 8 and 9 feet long; four 1-inch and three 3/4-inch dowels each 36 inches long, twelve 6-penny finishing nails, and wood glue.

Cut boards to be joined 1 inch longer than shown. Clamp each pair of boards with edges to be joined side by side. With a square, mark a single line across both edges at the middle and at 5-inch intervals each way (three marks at 4-inch intervals on top shelf boards). Mark center of each edge at each of these lines and bore holes 3/4 inch in diameter and 1 1/2 inches deep. Cut 2 1/2-inch pieces from the 3/4-inch dowel. Put glue in holes and on edges of boards, insert dowels, and clamp. Be sure boards are flat. When glue is dry, trim ends to size and mark center points for the 1-inch dowel holes as shown. The eight holes 1/2 inch deep are finished with a Forstner Bit. Use auger bit for the rest. Cut 1-inch dowel to sizes shown, insert and glue. Bore a 5/64-inch hole in ends into each dowel and secure with 6-penny finishing nails. Set nails, fill holes with wood putty, round all rough edges, and finish table with paint or stain and varnish.

Cut boards to be joined 1 inch longer than shown. Clamp each pair of boards with edges to be joined side by side. With a square, mark a single line across both edges at the middle and at 5-inch intervals each way (three marks at 4-inch intervals on top shelf boards). Mark center of each edge at each of these lines and bore holes 3/4 inch in diameter and 1 1/2 inches deep. Cut 2 1/2-inch pieces from the 3/4-inch dowel. Put glue in holes and on edges of boards, insert dowels, and clamp. Be sure boards are flat. When glue is dry, trim ends to size and mark center points for the 1-inch dowel holes as shown. The eight holes 1/2 inch deep are finished with a Forstner Bit. Use auger bit for the rest. Cut 1-inch dowel to sizes shown, insert and glue. Bore a 5/64-inch hole in ends into each dowel and secure with 6-penny finishing nails. Set nails, fill holes with wood putty, round all rough edges, and finish table with paint or stain and varnish.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: A reference to Family Service in your column of Feb. 15 is bringing us a great many letters and phone calls from troubled people. We are steering these people, whenever possible, to our member agencies for professional services. We follow your column and are glad to be useful in this way.

Since being forthright is a virtue you cherish, I am assuming that you will want to hear from us on points of accuracy or professional experience which we feel might be useful to your work.

In regard to your column of Feb. 15, based on a letter from the mother of an unwed pregnant daughter, we have two points:

1. Our staff person who handles mail and calls from people wanting help is Mrs. Alice Adler, family life consultant. You gave the name of Miss Virginia L. Amos, field director.

2. In your reply to the mother, you suggested that a solution for the young girl and her expected baby might be to marry the boy and later secure an annulment or divorce. Our feeling is that such planning would be highly undesirable. We doubt if one error can be corrected by embarking upon another.

Talk For Adoption

What of the effects on the child? He has gained a father's name but hardly a father. Unless the girl's parents assume financial responsibility, she may find it necessary to release the child for adoption.

It might be that both mother and daughter will decide that the child's welfare is best served by a plan to permit its adoption, at birth, by a couple whose marriage is secure and who are prepared to give the baby the security of love and a home, as well as a name. In any case, it is our view that "a marriage of convenience" only adds to the problems facing these people.

I hope you will welcome this discussion.

Bennett Cerf Interviews George Romney

Noted publisher, columnist and television personality gets inside story of revolutionary advance in car construction from the President of American Motors.

CERF: Mr. Romney, why do you offer a total of $25,000 insurance with your new cars?

ROMNEY: It backs our claim that "single unit" construction makes the strongest, safest, most modern cars.

CERF: Is there really that much difference between the way you and other manufacturers make cars?

ROMNEY: All the difference between yesterday's railway coach and today's streamliner. Other cars still use a principle old as the oxcart: A flat frame bolted under a separate body. In our cars, frame and body are welded as a "single unit". It's the biggest stride since the all-steel body.

CERF: And this makes a safer car?

ROMNEY: Twice as safe. Instead of a flat frame underfoot, our frame is a steel, box-girder enclosure as big as the car. It gives you "wrap-around" protection in front, rear, sides and top.

CERF: That sounds like real protection.

ROMNEY: That's not all. Flat frames others use are stiff, so they transmit collision force throughout the car. Our big steel box-girders up front absorb most of the impact. They take the brunt of the punishment instead of passengers.

CERF: What about performance?

ROMNEY: That's a real plus. "Single unit" construction gives a better power-weight ratio. It's stronger and safer, but eliminates useless weight and bulk. Our cars have set many racing records.

CERF: And economy?

ROMNEY: They're tops. Rambler holds the gas mileage record in Mobilgas Economy Runs. Again, because our "hard-muscled" single unit avoids dead weight.

CERF: I like room and comfort.

ROMNEY: Nash and Hudson have more room inside than any high-priced car. Rambler equals medium-priced big cars. As for ride, the greater strength of our "single unit" lets us use larger springs, and superior front suspension.

CERF: Isn't resale value important?

ROMNEY: You bet. Rambler has top resale value in the low price field. In addition to other advantages, welded single unit cars last longer, make better used cars.

CERF: If all you say is true, why don't the Big Three make cars your way?

ROMNEY: You see, mere "bigness" can be a handicap in advanced automobile engineering. One of the biggest of the "Big 3" was years behind others in adopting the all-steel body. The bigger you are, the more factories you have—the more it costs to change.

CERF: I can understand that.

ROMNEY: Beginning in 1940, we spent over $50,000,000 to develop the "single unit" car. Today, it will cost the biggest companies billions to re-tool for our method.

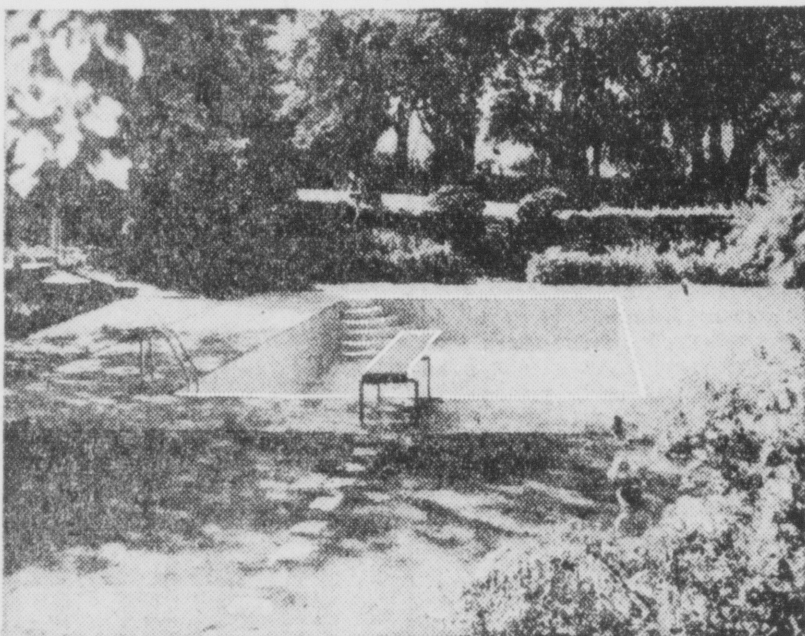

CERF: Do you think they will follow you?

ROMNEY: No doubt about it. Our major competitors will probably make the change gradually—piece-meal—or one model at a time. Frankly, we will be happy to see our "single unit" construction adopted, because it will mean better, safer cars on American highways.

CERF: Well, I'm about ready for another car. I'm going down to look at American Motors cars.

ROMNEY: All I ask anyone to do is see and drive our modern "single unit" cars at a Nash or Hudson dealer's. The rest is up to you.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: A reference to Family Service in your column of Feb. 15 is bringing us a great many letters and phone calls from troubled people. We are steering these people, whenever possible, to our member agencies for professional services. We follow your column and are glad to be useful in this way.

Since being forthright is a virtue you cherish, I am assuming that you will want to hear from us on points of accuracy or professional experience which we feel might be useful to your work.

In regard to your column of Feb. 15, based on a letter from the mother of an unwed pregnant daughter, we have two points:

1. Our staff person who handles mail and calls from people wanting help is Mrs. Alice Adler, family life consultant. You gave the name of Miss Virginia L. Amos, field director.

2. In your reply to the mother, you suggested that a solution for the young girl and her expected baby might be to marry the boy and later secure an annulment or divorce. Our feeling is that such planning would be highly undesirable. We doubt if one error can be corrected by embarking upon another.

Talk For Adoption

What of the effects on the child? He has gained a father's name but hardly a father. Unless the girl's parents assume financial responsibility, she may find it necessary to release the child for adoption.

It might be that both mother and daughter will decide that the child's welfare is best served by a plan to permit its adoption, at birth, by a couple whose marriage is secure and who are prepared to give the baby the security of love and a home, as well as a name. In any case, it is our view that "a marriage of convenience" only adds to the problems facing these people.

I hope you will welcome this discussion.

J. H. S.

DEAR J.H.S.: I believe the foregoing digests the import of your letter, here condensed due to space limitations. I am glad to direct readers' attention to the fact that Mrs. Alice Adler handles mail and telephone calls from persons wanting to help from the Family Service Association of America, at 192 Lexington Avenue, New York City 16.

In regard to Point No. 2: It is subtly inaccurate to say this column "suggested that a solution for the young girl and her baby might be to marry the boy, in a loveless marriage, and later secure an annulment or divorce."

More precisely, my comment recognized a probability that the girl doesn't know what her basic or enduring sentiments are, in the first flush of panic, shame, guilt feelings, etc. And I said: "If the boy is an acceptable sort, the constructive next move might be for the youngsters to marry, to give the child a legitimate start in life, and to establish the babe's kinship to his natural grandparents."

Central Question

And then I added, "as the principals are minor-age (and if your religion permits), a quiet divorce (or annulment) might follow later. But consult your family lawyer or spiritual director on these points." I didn't formulate finalities. Rather I was careful throughout to direct the correspondent to professional sources of leadership, namely: the Family Service, the Florence Crittenton Association, and the lawyer and spiritual director aforementioned.

Perhaps I should emphasize that all my comment was related to the mother's central question. She had asked, in effect, if there was a possible humane alternative to "placing our daughter in a maternity home, and later giving the child for adoption?" She coupled this question with another: "How do you go on living with the thought that your own grandchild is lost to you forever?"

Hence my tentative theory that a way may be found, that is decently compatible with legal and moral and social propriety, to constructively keep the child in the family. And I sincerely hope that all professional counselors aren't closed-minded to this idea.

M. H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

COSTLY ILLEGIBILITY

CAN YOU write legibly? This is a question seldom asked today, and the subject is one which is receiving less and less attention. The art of penmanship is dying, thanks to the typewriter, progressive education with its deemphasis of the three Rs, and the fact that many persons regard schooling in the art of writing as a waste of time.

This complacency, or indifference, to neat handwriting is costing the U. S. many millions of dollars each year. One estimate pushes the cost to $70 million. Perhaps one example of a company that was hard hit by poor handwriting will convince the dubious of the tremendous wastage.

The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. was losing $50,000 a year because the operators' handwriting was so poor no one could decide who should be charged for calls. The company finally had to hire an expert to teach the employees to write. The Illinois company is a small part of the total Bell system. Multiply this figure by the number of other Bell subsidiaries and perhaps the problem will come into focus.

Another large segment of handwriting complaints comes from insurance executives, 47 per cent of whom complain that badly written policy forms turned in by their salesmen cost them money. Even banks, where accuracy is of prime importance, have their troubles with illegibility. A Dallas bank official estimates his bank loses $5,000 annually because of this carelessness.

Not only educators but the public as well should take up the battle against handwriting illiteracy. The three R's can and should be supplemented but they cannot be replaced. Perhaps if each businessman were to take the time to figure what illegible handwriting is costing him, there would be an awakening in the business world. And if each consumer realizes that the cost of this sloppiness is included in the price of the articles he buys, perhaps he too will see the handwriting, or lack of it, on the wall.

NEWSPRINT SHORTAGE

THE SHORTAGE of newsprint continues unrelieved, and many newspapers are forced to resort to various stratagems to keep the presses rolling. Some newsprint is being sold at a premium price.

There is no hope of relief in the critical newsprint situation for several years, with advertising volume continuing to increase along with circulation. More persons are reading newspapers, and more advertisers are using more space.

Perhaps in time U. S. newspapers will be forced to consider an innovation which the London Times asserts it will try. The Times will be printed on book paper, according to an announcement. How much a newspaper printed on book paper would cost has not been estimated, nor have the mechanical problems involved been explored.

A French newspaper has offered a reward of $28,000 for delivery of the first live person from Mars. This will probably bring a bunch of cranks in with little men from Venus, Pluto and other planets, trying to palm them off as genuine Martians.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Death came to Stalin, as to all men, and the least he deserves of a country which he ruled so mightily is that the anniversary of his death should be observed, either as a celebration or as a day of memory. But of this, he has now been deprived and in such organs of slanted opinion as "Pravda" in Moscow or the "Daily Worker" in New York, he received no special mention. They can take his demise or leave it. Also they are removing his pictures from the walls, lest children grow up wondering who he is.

Thus, one who made himself into a deity, whose icons were carried in huge processions, having passed out of this world, is now declared by Herr Ulbricht of East Germany as not a Marxist classic, this same Ulbricht who used to extol Stalin as a Slavic Wotan and in whose interest he betrayed his national and racial traditions.

Perhaps it is all for the best. We, in this country, who do not take our great men too seriously, celebrate the birth of only one universally; that is George Washington's birthday. Many states also celebrate the birthday of Abraham Lincoln.

Franklin D. Roosevelt's natal day is celebrated in Kentucky and the Virgin Islands, which is not as well as Robert E. Lee has done, for eight states remember him and three others have him as an optional holiday, making a total of 11.

Considering all the great men we have had in this area since Columbus discovered it and Dwight D. Eisenhower presides over it, more or less, few have established themselves as worthy of annual commemoration either to mark a birth or a death. And none among us has ever achieved the role of a deity such as befell Stalin who was adulated until it must have turned his stomach.

Among the chief adulators are those who now declare him to have been nothing, just a guy who imitated Ivan the Terrible and fooled Roosevelt and Churchill at Tehran and Yalta. For that should he get a golden statue?

That was to be on top of the tallest building in the world but now they have cancelled it out. Competitive co-existence does not require such a tall building.

But out of the repudiation of Stalin's memory has come an idea which seems new to those who are not students of the situation. It is that to achieve socialism, it is not necessary to overthrow a government by force and violence. This is Khrushchev's great contribution to Marxian dialectics, although Marx himself in the "Communist Manifesto" tells of 10 ways to overthrow a capitalist government and force and violence are not the most revolutionary.

In fact, the most revolutionary, the most destructive is the graduated income tax and all that Khrushchev needs to do, to see how correct Karl Marx was, is to have a good look at the United States and Great Britain to learn how much damage the graduated income tax can do to solid countries and how speedily it brings on socialism without overthrowing the government by force and violence.

SYNOPSIS

In 1897, Seattle was a bustling, booming gateway to the Klondike gold rush. In 1901, with the help of his good friend Michael Dark, a handsome young lawyer, persuades Meg Beaumont, his pretty, yellow-haired niece, not to go to Alaska in search of her husband, Kemp Beaumont. Kemp had deserted Meg and their small son, Johnny, for the gold fields of the frozen north. Michael finds Meg a place to stay at Matilda Cox's boarding house, where he lives. Tim Dink, Meg should return to her father in Illinois, but Meg refuses, although she isn't a good saleswoman. Meg says she has a job, a prosperous merchant, offers to let them display hats once a week in his store. Jason also becomes interested in Meg. They have a common bond after Meg discovers that Jenny's husband has died. This gives them more reason than ever to succeed.

CHAPTER SEVEN

THREE YEARS ago Meg had met and married Johnny's father. She was twenty, already rebelling against her father and Stratton College, when she met Kemp at a college dance. Kemp Beaumont's orchestra, usually seen at noisy town affairs had been rushed in as a substitution when the regular musicians proved unavailable. Meg saw Kemp on the raised platform. He had looked at her with seeking eyes, and a startled awareness roughed her like a summer wind. She was not surprised when he managed to dance with her.

Kemp's voice was soft, slurred by forgotten ancestors who had left the South to settle in the sleepy little Illinois town. "I thought witches were dark. But you're a golden witch."

Lying in the darkness now, Meg shivered. Those words had seduced her as much as Kemp's eyes and lips. They were with her a month later when she married him in a shabby parsonage.

"Must we tell your father to-night?" Kemp's mouth was ardent upon her own.

"Yes." Wanting to yield, she couldn't.

Together they went to the green-and-white president's mansion to find Randall Stratton, frigidly polite, at dinner. "I was not aware you had invited a guest, Margaret."

"He's not a guest, Father. He's my husband, Kemp Beaumont."

Her father's rage had been instantly controlled, but he had not deceived her. "You—my daughter—married to a fiddle-playing hostler!"

"Keep your tongue from Kemp and his family!" She watched him writhe at the knowledge that her relatives by marriage ran a livery stable and a rooming house.

Long before they reached Seattle, Meg voiced her doubts. She had met Tim in Strattonville. "He isn't very prosperous himself, Kemp."

"Probably not. But he'll know everybody in town."

He at least knew a man who offered Kemp a job playing his fiddle. Meg expected him to take it.

"No. I'm going to the Klondike."

They fought bitterly.

"You shan't throw everything away for a jumble dream! I hate dreams. And jumbles!"

"That's where we're different, Meg. I like both. I'll get to Alaska somehow. You can't stop me!"

Seek Aid For Poor Skin

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PROBABLY no portion of your body is so mistreated as your skin.

Just about everyone, teenager and parent alike, it seems, visualizes himself as a skin expert.

If you had heart trouble, a liver ailment or virtually any other disturbance that was giving you trouble, you'd go to your doctor. But with skin blemishes it's often another story.

Make Own Diagnosis

You or your youngsters promptly diagnose your own trouble and launch a program of self-medication. Even those who do consult a physician or dermatologist frequently add their own remedies to his prescription.

Some of these medications may be helpful. Others, if not used properly, may be injurious. Self-medication can seriously aggravate an otherwise simple skin condition.

Might Be Acne

These blemishes, you see, might be a symptom of acne and it's important that acne, which can assume a variety of forms, be properly treated by a doctor to prevent possible permanent scarring.

You parents should not view lightly your children's skin disorders. To them, it's an immediate and distressing problem.

You'll help them avoid increased self-consciousness if you see that something constructive is done to aid them. Send them to a doctor.

Cleanliness important

It's usually difficult to determine whether blemishes are internally or externally caused. Cleanliness, however, is important in maintaining a good complexion, and one of the best mixtures you can use to keep your face clean is soap and water.

Wash your face at least twice a day. Wet it first with warm water. Then work up a good lather with your hands or a face cloth. Massage the soap in thoroughly, rinse with warm water, then splash your face with cold water. This will not only keep your skin clean, it will also help perk you up.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. K.: What is the cause of colic in infants?

Answer: Colic may be caused by exposure to cold, air, or the eating of cold food. If a child is sensitive to certain foods, he may also have colic.

Some children swallow an excessive amount of air, are overfed or are given excessive amounts of starches, any of which may cause colic.

COSTLY ILLEGIBILITY

CAN YOU write legibly? This is a question seldom asked today, and the subject is one which is receiving less and less attention. SYNOPSIS

In 1897, Seattle was a bustling, booming gateway to the Klondike gold rush. Tim O'Beirn, with the help of his good friend Michael Kemp, a handsome young lawyer, persuades Meg Beaumont, his pretty, yellow-haired niece, not to go to Alaska in search of her husband, Kemp Beaumont. Kemp had deserted Meg and their small son, Johnny, for the gold fields of the frozen north. Michael finds Meg a place to stay at Matilda Cox's boarding house, where he lives. Tim thinks Meg should return to her father in Illinois, but Meg refuses, although she hasn't a job or money. Matilda asks Michael to find her a job, and he suggests schoolteaching, but Meg says no. Meanwhile, at the boarding house, Meg meets Jenny Fleur, who has a small hat shop that isn't doing well because she isn't a good saleswoman. Meg says she can design and sell hats so Michael suggests they become partners. After the partnership is formed, Jason Ten Eyck, a prosperous merchant, offers to let Tim display hats once a week in his store. Jason also becomes interested in Meg. Meg and Jenny work well together. They have a common bond after Meg discovers that Jenny's husband had deserted her, too. This gives them more reason than ever to succeed.

CHAPTER SEVEN

THREE YEARS ago Meg had met and married Johnny's father. She was twenty, already rebelling against her father and Stratton College, when she met Kemp at a college dance. Kemp Beaumont's orchestra, usually seen at noisy town affairs had been rushed in as a substitution when the regular musicians proved unavailable. Meg saw Kemp on the raised platform. Kemp's voice was soft, slurred by forgotten ancestors who had left the South to settle in the sleepy little Illinois town. "I thought witches were dark. But you're a golden witch."

Lying in the darkness now, Meg shivered. Those words had seduced her as much as Kemp's eyes and lips. They were with her a month later when she married him in a shabby parsonage.

"Must we tell your father tonight?" Kemp's mouth was ardent upon her own.

"Yes." Wanting to yield, she couldn't.

Together they went to the green-and-white president's "mansion" to find Randall Stratton, frigidly polite, at dinner. "I was not aware you had invited a guest, Margaret."

"He's not a guest, Father. He's my husband, Kemp Beaumont."

Her father's rage had been instantly controlled, but he had not deceived her. "You—my daughter—married to a—fiddle-playing hostler!"

"Keep your tongue from Kemp and his family!" She watched him writhe at the knowledge that her relatives by marriage ran a lively stable and a rooming house.

"I shall not accept your marriage!"

"I was of age two years ago, Father. Your acceptance is no more important than you are." The anger of twenty years flared between them. She wondered again if her father hated her because her mother had died giving her life.

"Leave my house!"

"As soon as I collect my clothes. You'll permit that, I suppose?"

He did not speak when she came down the stairs with her bags. Kemp took them from her and Meg faced her father. "I'll send for my trunks later, Father. I've already packed them."

In the months that followed, when they lived in his parents' crowded rooming house, Meg would remember these things and try to hide her dislike of his shiftless father, of the untidy kitchen where the Beaumonts did most of their living. She was fond of her warmhearted mother-in-law, Honora. She soon saw that Honora held no better opinion of the capabilities of her menfolk than did Meg herself.

Before Johnny was born, Meg sensed her mother-in-law's concern.

"When the child's drawn his second breath," Honora predicted, "Kemp will be off for the West. Possessed he is to find gold. You'll taste tears with that lad of mine, Meg."

Motherhood, when it came, was beautiful. This small, perfect child hers! She had carried him within her, presented him with the gift of life.

They went to California. In spite of her warning better judgment, Meg really expected Kemp's uncle in San Francisco to help them get a start. But when they reached San Francisco, they discovered that he had been dead a month, killed in a saloon brawl and given a funeral through a collection taken up in that very saloon. Kemp wrote Tim O'Beirn in Seattle and Tim wired passage money.

Long before they reached Seattle, Meg voiced her doubts. She had met Tim in Strattonville. "He isn't very prosperous himself, Kemp."

"Probably not. But he'll know everybody in town."

He at least knew a man who offered Kemp a job playing his fiddle. Meg expected him to take it.

"No. I'm going to the Klondike."

They fought bitterly.

"You shan't throw everything away for a jubilee dream! I hate dreams. And jubilees!"

"That's where we're different, Meg. I like both. I'll get to Alaska somehow. You can't stop me!"

He slammed from their hotel room. Meg burst into tears. She went to bed and stared with hot, dry eyes into the darkness. She had not expected Kemp to return that night. Yet it was less than two hours when he stepped softly into the room.

"Meg?"

She did not answer. Her body tensed when he lay down beside her. She stiffened when his arms went about her. "Meg darling."

She jerked angrily from his encircling embrace, but he only laughed and pulled her close, bringing his mouth to hers with swift sureness.

"Meg, Meg, don't waste time in temper. You're for me—and a golden witch even in the dark."

Even as she fought to retain it, her anger dissolved and her lips quickened under his own. She came to him gladly and never had he possessed her so utterly. Long after he slept, she lay awake planning their future.

It was late when she awakened. Kemp must have slipped out to see about the job without disturbing her. Johnny whimpered and she jumped from bed in a frenzy of self-reproach.

"We must be ready to go when your father comes, Johnny darling."

She was half dressed when she noticed the note on the pillow, and picked it up.

I'm off to Alaska, dearest. Last night I got a chance to work my way. I'll come back with gold to match you. All my love, Kemp.

Unbelieving rage shook her. He couldn't! She wouldn't allow it! She cried out with a fury that startled Johnny. With an effort that nauseated her, she controlled herself and soothed the child. The memory of last night scalded her. She felt like a wanton, a woman a man had used and discarded. She hated him!

Even now, months later, reliving those waiting hours, she writhed. She loathed the curious glances, the whispered conjectures. She would never forgive Kemp for this. She'd show him.

Restlessness was on her. She slid from bed, went to the open window and leaned far over the sill. Meg's jaw set. She would build her own jubilee, not on the sands of gold but on the solid rock of work. Jason Ten Eyck would help her. He would help her because he was aware of her as a woman. All right! She'd take advantage of it. A hat shop was a precarious hold on the toe of fortune. She'd use everything she was to strengthen that hold. She scowled out into the sea-scented darkness. I'll show Kemp, I'll show him!

1—He was born in Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 29, 1894, and studied law. He was admitted to the Alabama bar in 1915. He served in the Army during World War I and was elected to the 68th Congress to fill a vacancy caused by a death. He served in the House until his resignation in 1938 when he was appointed to the Senate to fill a vacancy. He has been re-elected to that body ever since. He has asked the Senate interior committee to endorse his proposal to set aside revenue from off-shore oil leases for educational purposes in all states. Who is he?

2—He was a famous American manufacturer, born in West Overton, Pa., in 1849. At 19 he took a job as bookkeeper in a flour mill, but he early took an interest in the possibilities of the coking industry, then in its infancy. In 1871 he organized his own company, owning 300 acres of coal lands, and by 1889 he controlled 35,000 acres of coal lands. In 1897, he became chairman of the board of the largest coke-producing company in the world. He died in 1919. What was his name? (Names at bottom of column)

Seek Aid For Poor Skin

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PROBABLY no portion of your body is so mistreated as your skin.

Just about everyone, teenager and parent alike, it seems, visualizes himself as a skin expert.

If you had heart trouble, a liver ailment or virtually any other disturbance that was giving you trouble, you'd go to your doctor. But with skin blemishes it's often another story.

Make Own Diagnosis

You or your youngsters promptly diagnose your own trouble and launch a program of self-medication. Even those who do consult a physician or dermatologist frequently add their own remedies to his prescription.

Some of these medications may be helpful. Others, if not used properly, may be injurious. Self-medication can seriously aggravate an otherwise simple skin condition.

Might Be Acne

These blemishes, you see, might be a symptom of acne and it's important that acne, which can assume a variety of forms, be properly treated by a doctor to prevent possible permanent scarring.

You parents should not view lightly your children's skin disorders. To them, it's an immediate and distressing problem. You'll help them avoid increased self-consciousness if you see that something constructive is done to aid them. Send them to a doctor.

Cleanliness Important

It's usually difficult to determine whether blemishes are internally or externally caused. Cleanliness, however, is important in maintaining a good complexion, and one of the best mixtures you can use to keep your face clean is soap and water.

Wash your face at least twice a day. Wet it first with warm water. Then work up a good lather with your hands or a face cloth.

Massage the soap in thoroughly, rinse with warm water, then splash your face with cold water. This will not only keep your skin clean, it will also help perk you up.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. K.: What is the cause of colic in infants?

Answer: Colic may be caused by exposure to cold, air, or the eating of cold food. If a child is sensitive to certain foods, he may also have colic.

Some children swallow an excessive amount of air, are overfed or are given excessive amounts of starches, any of which may cause colic.

Point Won, But Too Late

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is never pleasant for either party when a boy defies his father in picking out his life's career.

It was particularly difficult for Alfred E. Globus, who at 35 has become one of the youngest tycoons in American chemistry. He deeply admired his father, who had come to his country alone at 16, and had sweated night and day to put himself through medical school. But young Globus himself was more interested in pattering with chemicals than learning medicine.

Union Guild Holds Dinner Noting 23rd Anniversary

19 Attend Event In Party Home

Union Guild celebrated its 23rd anniversary Thursday evening with a dinner party held in Wardell Party home.

Attending the occasion were 16 members and three guests: Miss Mary Howard and Mrs. Rosie Carle of Circleville and Miss Patty Downs of Jackson Township.

Dinner was served to Mrs. Druzie Pontious of Circleville, an honor member who is ill.

Each person received a red rose bud as a favor and Mrs. Evelyn Hoover and Mrs. Pauline Schooley received mystery sister gifts.

The evening was spent in playing games. Prizes were won by every one present.

A card was read from Mrs. Marvin Routt, who is visiting relatives in the South.

The next meeting will be held April 11 in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Goodman of near Lockbourne. The group will enjoy a covered dish dinner.

Carolyn Huffer Reigns As Queen At SOS Dance

Carolyn Huffer, president of Senior SOS, was crowned queen of the club's annual Sweetheart Dance, held in the social rooms of Circleville High School. Marilyn Evans and Carole Bass were her attendants.

Different shades of blue and silver notes decorated the room. The queen's throne was placed in the center of the room and the punch table was at one end.

The dance band was the Collegians from Ohio State University. The band was seated in front of a huge silver music staff.

The following were invited guests: Junior SOS club, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gabriel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. George Young and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hagg.

Ladies Aid Holds "Family" Dinner In Arledge Home

Ladies Aid of Morris Church held family night in the home of Mr. Harry Arledge of Kingston Route 1. Mrs. Glenn Hall was hostess to the group.

The meeting was opened with group singing. President, Mrs. Russell England then gave the scripture followed by Mrs. Ida Leist giving prayer.

The secretary gave reports and it was announced that 29 sick calls had been made and 65 cards sent.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Hall served lunch to the 25 members and guests present.

Mrs. Durbin Allen of 527 E. Franklin St. will be hostess for the April meeting, assisted by Mrs. England.

Miss Joyce Ball Mr. Gordon Dalsbo United In Wedlock

Miss Joyce Therese Ball and Mr. Gordon O. Dalsbo were united in marriage in Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco, Calif., by the Rev. Othmar Tobisch.

The former Miss Ball is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ball of Ontario, Canada, and Mr. Dalsbo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Dalsbo of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

The bride, given in marriage by Dr. Douglas Wilson of Baltimore, Md., wore a ballerina-length ivory antique silk taffeta gown, designed by Tomi Hearn, of San Francisco, Calif. The gown was fashioned with a fitted torso, sculptured neckline of draped folds and a circular pyramid front. Her veil was of illusion net and she carried a bouquet of Fleurs d'amour.

Matron of honor, Miss Suzanne Albrecht wore a emerald green sheath of silk taffeta with a fitted torso and tulip skirt. Her flowers were pink camellias.

Mr. David Hickey of California served as best man.

Following the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Las Vegas.

The new Mrs. Dalsbo was a student of St. Joseph's Hospital in Ontario and Mr. Dalsbo received his Bachelor of Science degree at Iowa State College, where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalsbo plan to make their home in Circleville, where Mr. Dalsbo has been a resident.

Indian Influence Is Evening Group Meeting Theme

The cultural contributions and influences of the Indian-American was the theme of the meeting of the Evening Group "D" in the First Presbyterian Church social room.

Miss Jo Anne Brink, chairman, conducted the session, which was opened with Scripture and prayer by Mrs. Dan Meyers. Mrs. Meyers read the 23rd Psalm in the English version while Mrs. Merle Turner read the Indian version of the same Psalm.

Mrs. Thomas Houghton gave a talk on inventions and food of the Indian-American while Mrs. Turner told about the Indian language.

In her talk, Mrs. Houghton declared "many Indian inventions are now incorporated in American life." Among them, she singled out the hammock, moccasin, and birchbark canoes.

She stated that the Indians are credited with the development of the guinea pig, the muscavay duck, turkey and the llama.

Mrs. Houghton said that the Indians taught the first settlers an advanced theory of fertilization—placing a fish in each hill of corn as they planted. Included in the Indian diet were corn, beans, succotash, hominy and even toasted cornflakes.

In conclusion, Mrs. Houghton said "When we settle ourselves amid our plenty in our cafes and homes and blandly call for the menu or ask, 'what's for supper?', let us remember our deep indebtedness to those unskilled and 'primitive' people whose gifts are spread on our tables."

Refreshments were served and the meeting was closed by Mrs. Philip Hines and Mrs. Christina Graef.

The next session will be held in the social room at 8 p. m. April 4. Mrs. Robert Pickens and Mrs. Eugene Thurston will be co-hostesses.

Stockholders Increase Along With U. S. Boom

Revival Of Public Interest In Stocks Seen In Last 10 Years

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The business boom has had its parallel boom in the number of persons to buy and hold stock in leading corporations. The roll of stockholders has grown smartly this last year on many a blue chip company's books. Today it is strikingly higher than 10 years ago — in some instances more than double — a concrete sign of the revival of public interest in the stock market since the war.

Ford has just added to this by boosting the number of its stockholders from a handful within the ranks of the family and top executives to more than 350,000 by selling stock to the public.

The total of persons owning common stock in this country's corporations is now estimated at at least 8 million, a gain of 1½ million since the Brookings Institution made a survey in 1925 for the New York Stock Exchange.

The bull market in stocks, feeding on the business boom and its accompanying harvest of confidence, has had much to do with this. So has the record number of stock splits — some 180 last year alone — plus many declarations of stock dividends.

On top of this, the nation's corporations sold 2¼ billion dollars of new common stock last year to the public, the Securities and Exchange Commission reports. (The Ford stock sale, coming in 1935, isn't included.)

The New York Stock Exchange publishes today in the March issue of the exchange a table of 18 companies with some of the nation's largest stockholder lists. Their average gain in numbers last year was 7 per cent and in 10 years 44 per cent.

Ford isn't included since its stock wasn't publicly available until recently. And one or two other companies with large stock owner rolls aren't there because their latest lists aren't available.

The 18, combined, now have 4,541,221 share owners, compared with 3,161,861 in 1926, the first post-war year when industry was readjusting from a war to a peace economy. The totals include duplications, of course, since many stockholders own shares in more than one of the 18.

American Telephone & Telegraph is the most widely owned corporation, both now and then. It reports 1,409,000 shareowners, a gain of 106 per cent in 10 years. General Motors is second with 537,751 now, a 33.2 per cent increase since the war.

Biggest gainer percentage-wise in 10 years in the number of shareholders is International Harvester with a jump of 230.6 per cent, although it now counts the smallest number of any of the list—99,390.

Others that have doubled their shareowner totals or better are Jersey Standard Oil and Westinghouse Electric.

General Electric shows a 44.3 per cent increase in the decade. But it was top company for percentage-wise gains in the last year. With 349,000 stockholders now, it has added 53,055, or 17.9 per cent, in the last year.

Others showing better than a 40 per cent gain in the last 10 years are Du Pont, Union Carbide and U. S. Steel. Runners up include California Standard Oil, and Socony Mobil Oil.

You May Get 'Odds' From Weatherman

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—If Fresno meteorologists have their way, you soon may be able to get a "morning line" on the weather.

Chief Forecaster A. A. Lothman has proposed that the Weather Bureau be permitted to use odds-makers' terminology in making predictions.

Lothman's forecasts would go something like this: "There's a 50-50 chance of light showers today." Or "It's 6 to 5 there'll be rain before nightfall."

The odds would replace such familiar — and indefinite — terms as "probable, possible and likely."

4 Embezzlement Counts Dismissed

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—Scioto County Common Pleas Judge Vernon Smith has dismissed four counts of embezzlement against James E. McCoy, former New Boston city auditor. Sums involved in the indictment totaled approximately $17,000.

Judge Smith gave as his reason for dismissing the counts yesterday that they did not state sufficient facts to constitute offenses.

Still pending against McCoy are four counts charging forgery, to which he has pleaded innocent. McCoy has pleaded guilty to three other forgery counts.

Woman To Inherit Estate Of Her Walk-Away Husband

RIVERHEAD, N. Y. (AP)—A Brooklyn housewife whose first husband walked out on her after two weeks of married life 38 years ago has inherited $260,000 from his estate.

Mrs. Myra Richman Duck, 53 had never heard from her husband since the marriage. She mistakenly believed she had divorced him nearly 20 years ago.

The husband, Helge Nelson of Huntington, N.Y., and Miami Beach, Fla., died at the Florida resort last year at 55. He left an estate estimated at $650,000 but no will.

Agreement on Mrs. Duck's share of his estate was reached in Surrogate's Court here.

Mrs. Duck married Nelson when she was 15 and he was 17. Then he left.

Nearly 20 years later she wanted to marry Frank L. Duck. She hired a lawyer to get a desertion divorce from her long-departed husband in the event he was still alive.

The lawyer, she told Surrogate

Edgar Hazelton, informed her later that he had gotten a divorce decree. She went ahead and married Duck.

Nelson, meanwhile, was amassing a fortune as a partner in a Brooklyn metal products factory.

At the time of his death, his common-law wife Dorothy Compisi filed in Surrogate's Court here for a widow's share of the estate.

A search for possible survivors was launched. It turned up Mrs. Duck.

The lawyer, it developed, had misinformed her and had never gotten a divorce decree after all. She was still Nelson's legal wife.

Under the agreement, Mrs. Duck is to inherit 40 per cent of the estate. The other 60 per cent goes to Nelson's sister, a half-sister and a half-brother.

Dorothy Compisi got nothing.

In the first place, this income tax destroys the middle class, the bourgeoisie, which in every civilization is the core of the nation, the strong, hard-thinking, initiating, creative element that is essential to the continuance of a civilization.

In fact, in Soviet Russia, one of the first acts of Bolshevism was the development of such a middle class, consisting principally of party members and those who possessed technical and artistic skills, all of whom gained special privileges.

And while this was being accomplished in Soviet Russia under Stalin, this creative class is being wiped out in the Western world by the graduated income tax which, punitive collected by a host of underpaid bureaucrats, leaves men without the incentive to accomplish more than they must to get by. It also has the effect of stimulating lawlessness, for the really able find ways of evading the tax or of making for themselves special privileges which bring to them benefits which other citizens cannot have under the law.

So Mr. Khrushchev need not look too far to discover how to accomplish socialism without force and violence. It can be done by taxation and has been so done in the United States and Great Britain — to mention only two countries.

Stockholders Increase Along With U. S. Boom

Revival Of Public Interest In Stocks Seen In Last 10 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—The business boom has had its parallel boom in the number of persons to buy and hold stock in leading corporations. The roll of stockholders has grown smartly this last year on many a blue chip company's books. Today it is strikingly higher than 10 years ago—in some instances more than double—a concrete sign of the revival of public interest in the stock market since the war.

Ford has just added to this by boosting the number of its stockholders from a handful within the ranks of the family and top executives to more than 350,000 by selling stock to the public.

The total of persons owning common stock in this country's corporations is now estimated as at least 8 million, a gain of 1½ million since the Brookings Institution made a survey in 1932 for the New York Stock Exchange.

The bull market in stocks, feeding on the business boom and its accompanying harvest of confidence, has had much to do with this. So has the record number of stock splits—some 180 last year alone—plus many declarations of stock dividends.

On top of this, the nation's corporations sold 24 billion dollars of new common stock last year to the public, the Securities and Exchange Commission reports. (The Ford stock sale, coming in 1935, isn't included.)

The New York Stock Exchange publishes today in the March issue of the exchange a table of 18 companies with some of the nation's largest stockholder lists. Their average gain in numbers last year was 7 per cent and in 10 years 44 per cent.

Ford isn't included since its stock wasn't publicly available until recently. And one of two other companies with large stock owner rolls aren't there because their latest lists aren't available.

The 18, combined, now have 4,541,221 share owners, compared with 3,161,861 in 1946, the first post-war year when industry was readjusting from a war to a peace economy. The totals include duplications, of course, since many stockholders own shares in more than one of the 18.

American Telephone & Telegraph is the most widely owned corporation, both now and then. It reports 1,409,000 shareowners, a gain of 106 per cent in 10 years. General Motors is second with 537,751 now, a 33.2 per cent increase since the war.

Biggest gainer percentage-wise in 10 years in the number of shareholders is International Harvester with a jump of 230.6 per cent, although it now counts the smallest number of any of the list—99,390.

Others that have doubled their shareowner totals or better are Jersey Standard Oil and Westinghouse Electric.

General Electric shows a 44.3 per cent increase in the decade. But it was top company for percentage-wise gains in the last year. With 349,000 stockholders now, it has added 53,055, or 17.9 per cent, in the last year.

Others showing better than a 40 per cent gain in the last 10 years are Du Pont, Union Carbide and U. S. Steel. Runners up include California Standard Oil, and Socony Mobil Oil.

Mercury is the smallest planet in our solar system.

You May Get 'Odds' From Weatherman

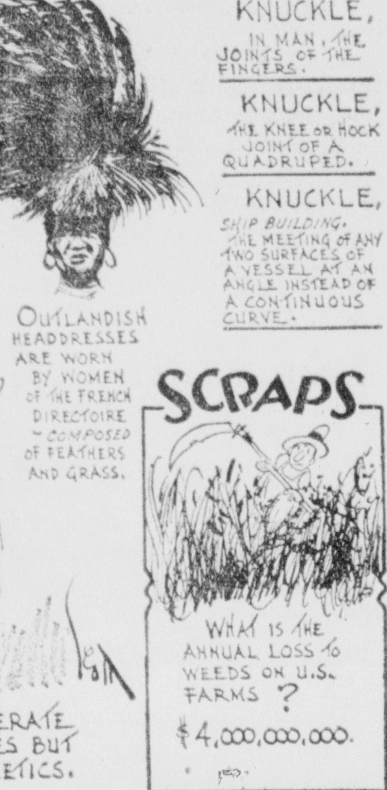

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—If Fresno meteorologists have their way, you soon may be able to get a "morning line" on the weather.

Chief Forecaster A. A. Lothman has proposed that the Weather Bureau be permitted to use odds-makers' terminology in making predictions.

Lothman's forecasts would go something like this: "There's a 50-50 chance of light showers today." Or "It's 6 to 5 there'll be rain before nightfall."

The odds would replace such familiar—and indefinite—terms as "probable, possible and likely."

Judge Smith gave as his reason for dismissing the counts yesterday that they did not state sufficient facts to constitute offenses.

Still pending against McCoy are four counts charging forgery, to which he has pleaded innocent. McCoy has pleaded guilty to three other forgery counts.

Two Former State Champs Taste Defeat

Newark And Hamilton Out Of Running For 1956 Class A Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two three-time Class A state champions—Newark and Hamilton Public—were belted to the sidelines Thursday night in abbreviated fighting on the Ohio high school basketball tournament front.

Newark, title-holder in 1936, 1938 and 1943, and boasting a 19-1 record, was bested 59-55 by Columbus South in the Columbus district tournament. South had lost seven of 20 previous contests.

Hamilton Public's Big Blue, winner of the crown in 1937, 1949 and 1954, was a victim of Cincinnati St. Xavier by a lop-sided 78-50 count in the Cincinnati district meet. Hamilton had won 14 of 19 games, but the parochial victors ran their season's record to 12-5 by the conquest.

No Class B games were played Thursday night as the Class A contingent was cut to 34 from the original field of 328. Newark was rated eighth in the final Associated Press Class A poll, and elimination of the Wildcats leaves eight of the top 10 still in combat. Seven of the Class B top 10 in the final poll are still on hand, among the 44 survivors.

For the first time in the history of the Eastern district, arch rivals Bellaire (18-2) and Martins Ferry (17-4) will clash in the finals for the regional berth at Canton.

Tonight's action is not too heavy in Class A, only three games being scheduled. Toledo Macomber's tenth-ranked team (19-2) goes (14-3) at Toledo, for a spot in the Toledo regional, and the other contests are at Troy.

At the latter district meet the program calls for Urbana 8-12 vs West Milton 9-4, and Tipp City 4-15 vs Troy 12-5. One of the oft-beaten clubs is certain to win a berth in the Cincinnati regional.

Cincinnati Hughes, last year's Class A finalist against now-deposed champion Zanesville, ran its record to 183 Thursday night with a 60-48 conquest of Cincinnati Elder (15-6) and will meet Cincinnati St. Xavier (12-5) in Saturday's district finals.

Dayton Roosevelt (14-5) was a 46-35 victor over Dayton Fairmont (7-11), to get into the finals at Dayton against Middletown's top-ranked Middies who sport a 20-0 record.

Seven Class B teams will win regional berths tonight as 19 games are played. Three regional qualifiers will be named at Kent, and one each at Portsmouth, Athens, Cincinnati and Xenia, leaving nine to be selected in Saturday night's play. Fifteen Class A regional qualifiers will be named Saturday.

Training Camp News Briefs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Joe Black and Brooks Lawrence, two big right-handers, have drawn the assignments to be the first pitchers in the Cincinnati Redlegs' opening exhibition games.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts said he would start Black against the Chicago White Sox in the second game Sunday.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Alex Grammas probably would be the St. Louis Cardinals' starting shortstop if the season were opening today.

That's the opinion of manager Fred Hutchinson after Grammas rapped out a single and double in a short intra-squad game Thursday.

Hitting is Grammas' weakness. After a slow start in 1954 he hit at a .300 plus clip in 1955 to finish with .264. Last year he ended with a .240.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Chicago White Sox manager Marty Marion is going to have his shortstop protégé, Luis Aparicio, outfitted with a smaller glove in an attempt to cut down on his fielding errors.

Luis, who is expected to fill the shoes of Chico Carrasquel, has been guilty of four errors in intra-squad competition, but made two brilliant plays in last Sunday's game.

The Don Gutteridge defeated the George Myatt's 3-1 in a windblown game Thursday that was called after five innings. Billy Pierce was touched for three runs in the first inning and Phil Brown yielded five more in the third when Ron Northey slammed a three-run homer.

Pistons Chalk Up Division Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—The Fort Wayne Pistons joined the record-making Philadelphia Warriors as regular season champions in the National Basketball Assn. today and interest centered on the divisional battles for the remaining post-season playoff positions.

The Pistons clinched the western division title last night by beating the Minneapolis Lakers 100-82 while the St. Louis Hawks, tied with the Lakers for second place, were edged by the Syracuse Nationals 92-88.

The Warriors, meanwhile, playing their first game since clinching the eastern division crown, set a league scoring record by clobbering the Boston Celtics 142-120.

first string as Lenny Nelson of Muskingum and Don Talbert of Mount Union were awarded places. Mitchell of Newark is a junior. Harkins and Jack Hawken, who broke every scoring record in the book for Wittenberg, are seniors.

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Hank Sauer, Solly Drake and Walt Moryn have been named by manager Stan Hack as the Chicago Cubs starting outfield—as of the moment.

"We have nine candidates, and it's hard to form a definite opinion so early," Hack said. "But Sauer, Drake and Moryn look like our starters now. I want to give Sauer every opportunity to get back into the groove and I still don't think he's through. I'm inclined to scratch off his performance last season (.211 with 12 homers) as just a bad year."

Gene Baker and Ernie Banks each tripled Thursday in an eight-inning, nine-run sixth inning that gave the "Blades" a 10-0 victory over the "Martins."

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Manager Charlie Grimm will start his veterans Saturday when the Milwaukee Braves open their exhibition season against the Phillies at Clearwater.

Rookie Frank Torre may be at first in place of Joe Adcock but the rest of the batting order, except for pitcher and catcher, might well be the same as an opening day in Milwaukee next month.

Billy Bruton will lead off, followed by Johnny Logan, Eddie Mathews, Henry Aaron, Bobby Thomson, Torre, Danny O'Connell and Del Rice. Red Murf, Dave Jolly and Chet Nichols each are slated for three innings of pitching.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers went through their final day of intensive spring drills today and prepared to start playing regulation games for the next 6½ months.

The first scheduled exhibition game will be staged Saturday against the Washington Senators. From then until the end of September, off days will be a rare thing.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Bob Lemon, Cleveland Indian righthander, allowed only one hit in three innings of intrasquad play Thursday. He faced only 11 batters in his first pitching duty.

"My arm felt pretty good—didn't tire at all," Lemon said. "My legs felt good, too, and that's more important."

The one hit was a line single by Mike Garcia. Mike allowed four runs in three innings in his first appearance of the year.

Santee Case Due For New Test In Court

NEW YORK (AP)—The Wes Santee case gets another run in the courts today.

The State Supreme Court will rule on the validity of the Amateur Athletic Union's lifetime suspension of America's fastest miller.

Santee's lawyer, Charles P. Grimes, will ask the court to strengthen the temporary injunction he obtained last week against the ban. If Grimes is successful Santee likely will run in the mile in Milwaukee tomorrow night.

The AAU, on the other hand, will request to have the restraining order lifted thereby enforcing the suspension of Santee on charges of "flagrant violations" of the amateur code.

Grimes has promised to take the case to the highest courts. The AAU also has announced that it intends to fight to the finish.

"It would be a rather sad situation," said Dan Ferris, AAU secretary-treasurer. "If we had to go through a court procedure every time we wanted to take action against an athlete. And that's what this situation could lead to unless we can prove our right to control amateur sports in this country."

Santee, who won the Columbian Mile against token opposition in last Saturday's Knights of Columbus meet in New York, said he would fly to Milwaukee today.

"If the permanent injunction is granted," said Oliver Kuehlo, director of the Milwaukee Journal

Lightburn Favored To Trip Khalifi

NEW YORK (AP)—Ludwig Lightburn, one of the bright hopes of the stagnant lightweight division, goes after his seventh straight victory tonight.

The 21-year-old contender from British Honduras is a 2-1 choice to get it at Algerian Hoacine Khalifi's expense in a 10-round over TV at 10 p. m.

Khalifi represents one of the notches of Luddy's belt. The rangy youngster with the picture-punching style and fast hands trounced the 28-year-old Algerian five months ago.

One of Lightburn's recent victims was Ralph Dupas, second-ranking contender from New Orleans. Khalifi's last outing resulted in a split decision loss to Dupas in New Orleans Feb. 20.

Atlanta High Holds Athletic Fete Tonight

Athletes, cheerleaders, managers, and coaches will be honored at Atlanta High School's annual athletic banquet scheduled for 6:30 p. m. tonight in the high school auditorium.

Dr. James Hull of Columbus, one-time All-American basketball star at Ohio State University, now widely known as a public speaker, will address the gathering.

Warren E. Hobbie, superintendent of the school, will welcome fans and introduce the toastmaster, Wendell C. Turner of The Circleview Herald. Turner is a former Atlanta resident and graduate of Atlanta High School.

Letters and awards will be presented to players, cheerleaders and managers by Atlanta Coach Warren E. Hobbie Jr.

Miss Joy Hosler, pianist, will provide dinner music and other musical numbers on the program will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moser.

Hospital 'Orderly' Is Actually Thief

CLEVELAND (AP)—A thief disguised in the white garb of an orderly roamed through rooms in two West Side Hospitals Wednesday night and stole 10 wallets containing sums ranging from a dollar to $12.

Most of the wallets taken at Lutheran Hospital and St. John's Hospital were found discarded later.

One patient at Lutheran Hospital, Joseph Vanderwerf, 38, woke up while the thief was in his room. Vanderwerf said that man told him he would get a nurse to give him a shot.

Tonight's action is not too heavy in Class A, only three games being scheduled. Toledo Macomber's tenth-ranked team (19-2) goes (14-3) at Toledo, for a spot in the Toledo regional, and the other contests are at Troy.

At the latter district meet the program calls for Urbana 8-12 vs West Milton 9-4, and Tipp City 4-15 vs Troy 12-5. One of the oft-beaten clubs is certain to win a berth in the Cincinnati regional.

Cincinnati Hughes, last year's Class A finalist against now-deposed champion Zanesville, ran its record to 183 Thursday night with a 60-48 conquest of Cincinnati Elder (15-6) and will meet Cincinnati St. Xavier (12-5) in Saturday's district finals.

Dayton Roosevelt (14-5) was a 46-35 victor over Dayton Fairmont (7-11), to get into the finals at Dayton against Middletown's top-ranked Middies who sport a 20-0 record.

Seven Class B teams will win regional berths tonight as 19 games are played. Three regional qualifiers will be named at Kent, and one each at Portsmouth, Athens, Cincinnati and Xenia, leaving nine to be selected in Saturday night's play. Fifteen Class A regional qualifiers will be named Saturday.

'13 Seen Entering Santa Anita 'Cap

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — A field of around 13 candidates, including Alfred Vanderbilt's stretch runner, Social Outcast, shaped up today to race in the $100,000 added San Juan Capistrano Handicap as Santa Anita brings its 19th winter meeting to a close tomorrow.

The probable field, in addition to Social Outcast, includes Bobby Brocato, Aliden, Blue Bolt, Mister Gus, Honeys Alibi, Trackmaster,

Last NCAA Berth Goes To Morehead

NEW YORK (AP) — The 25-team field for the NCAA basketball championship tournament is complete.

Morehead (Ky.) State, highest scoring major college club in history, last night won the Ohio Valley Conference crown and its first NCAA berth.

The Eagles did it the hard way. Dan Swartz and Herman Tolle each sank a pair of free throws in the last 21 seconds to defeat Western Kentucky 84-80 in the finale of a three-team playoff. Western, oddly, had eliminated Tennessee Tech by the same score the night before, swishing two field goals in the last 11 seconds.

Morehead's 84 points slimmed its average a bit, to 96 points a game. That still broke the record 95.3 mark held by Furman.

The Eagles, who overhauled Western midway in the second half and then held on to the lead, will run into Marshall, the No. 2 high-scoring major college team this season, in the first-round NCAA eliminations in Fort Wayne Monday night.

There was very little other activity last night. Manhattan, headed for a Tuesday meeting with Connecticut in the NCAA regional eliminations at Madison Square Garden, defeated Fordham 78-71.

Iowa State assured itself a share of second place in the Big Seven, defeating Nebraska 94-74.

Ohio Conference Aces Win Honors

COLUMBUS (AP) — The five top scorers in the Ohio Conference, representing five different colleges, today were named to the league's all-star team picked by coaches and sports editors.

Denison's Lou (Earl) Mitchell, who paced the Big Red to second place in the conference race, led the balloting and was awarded the team captaincy. He finished just a notch ahead of Mike Harkins, star of Akron's loop champions.

Two sophomores broke into the Lychnus, Manotick, Mintaka, Our Bettors, Allied and Nearque II.

Training Camp News Briefs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Joe Black and Brooks Lawrence, two big right-handers, have drawn the assignments to be the first pitchers in the Cincinnati Redlegs' opening exhibition games.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts said he would start Black against the Chicago White Sox in the second game Sunday.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Alex Grammas probably would be the St. Louis Cardinals' starting shortstop if the season were opening today.

That's the opinion of manager Fred Hutchinson after Grammas rapped out a single and double in a short intra-squad game Thursday.

Hitting is Grammas' weakness. After a slow start in 1954 he hit at a .300 plus clip in late months to finish with .264. Last year he ended with a .240.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Chicago White Sox manager Marty Marion is going to have his shortstop protégé, Luis Aparicio, outfitted with a smaller glove in an attempt to cut down on his fielding errors.

Luis, who is expected to fill the shoes of Chico Carrasquel, has been guilty of four errors in intra-squad competition, but made two brilliant plays in last Sunday's game.

The Don Gutierrez defeated the George Myatt's 8-3 in a windblown game Thursday that was called after five innings. Billy Pierce was touched for three runs in the first inning and Phil Brown yielded five more in the third when Ron Northey slammed a three-run homer.

Pistons Chalk Up Division Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — The Fort Wayne Pistons joined the record-making Philadelphia Warriors as regular season champions in the National Basketball Assn. today and interceded centered on the divisional playoffs for the remaining post-season

The Pistons clinched the western division title last night by beating the Minneapolis Lakers 100-82 while the St. Louis Hawks, tied with the Lakers for second place, were edged by the Syracuse Nationals 92-88.

The Warriors, meanwhile, playing their first game since clinching the eastern division crown, set a league scoring record by clobbering the Boston Celtics 142-120.

first string as Lenny Nelson of Muskingum and Don Talbert of Mount Union were awarded places. Mitchell of Newark is a junior. Harkins and Jack Hawken, who broke every scoring record in the book for Wittenberg, are seniors.

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Hank Sauer, Solly Drake and Walt Moryn have been named by manager Stan Hack as the Chicago Cubs starting outfield—as of the moment.

"We have nine candidates, and it's hard to form a definite opinion so early," Hack said. "But Sauer, Drake and Moryn look like our starters now. I want to give Sauer every opportunity to get back into the groove and I still don't think he's through. I'm inclined to scratch off his performance last season (.211 with 12 homers) as just a bad year."

Gene Baker and Ernie Banks each tripled Thursday in an eight-hit, nine-run sixth inning that gave the "Blades" a 10-0 victory over the "Martins."

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Manager Charlie Grimm will start his veterans Saturday when the Milwaukee Braves open their exhibition season against the Phillies at Clearwater.

Rookie Frank Torre may be at first in place of Joe Adcock but the rest of the batting order, except for pitcher and catcher, might well be the same as an opening day in Milwaukee next month.

Billy Bruton will lead off, followed by Johnny Logan, Eddie Mathews, Henry Aaron, Bobby Thomson, Torre, Danny O'Connell and Del Rice. Red Murrif, Dave Jolly and Chet Nichols each are slated for three innings of pitching.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers went through their final day of intensive spring drills today and prepared to start playing regulation games for the next 6½ months.

The first scheduled exhibition game will be staged Saturday against the Washington Senators. From then until the end of September, off days will be a rare thing.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Bob Lemon, Cleveland Indian righthander, allowed only one hit in three innings of intrasquad play Thursday. He faced only 11 batters in his first pitching duty.

"My arm felt pretty good—didn't tire at all," Lemon said. "My legs felt good, too, and that's more important."

The one hit was a line single by Mike Garcia. Mike allowed four runs in three innings in his first appearance of the year.

Math Instructor Gets Ring Lesson

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Richard E. Barringer of Boston outpointed Henry J. Landau of Cambridge last night for the Harvard 175-pound intra-mural boxing championship.

Barringer is a freshman. Landau is his math instructor.

Santee Case Due For New Test In Court

NEW YORK (AP) — The Wes Santee case gets another run in the courts today.

The State Supreme Court will rule on the validity of the Amateur Athletic Union's lifetime suspension of America's fastest miler.

Santee's lawyer, Charles P. Grimes, will ask the court to strengthen the temporary injunction he obtained last week against the ban. If Grimes is successful, Santee likely will run in the mile in Milwaukee tomorrow night.

The AAU, on the other hand, will request to have the restraining order lifted thereby enforcing the suspension of Santee on charges of "flagrant violations" of the amateur code.

Grimes has promised to take the case to the highest courts. The AAU also has announced that it intends to fight to the finish.

"It would be a rather sad situation," said Dan Ferris, AAU secretary-treasurer, "if we had to go through a court procedure every time we wanted to take action against an athlete. And that's what this situation could lead to unless we can prove our right to control amateur sports in this country."

Santee, who won the Colombian Mile against token opposition in last Saturday's Knights of Columbus meet in New York, said he would fly to Milwaukee today.

"If the permanent injunction is granted," said Oliver Kuechle, director of the Milwaukee Journal

Lightburn Favored To Trip Khalfi

NEW YORK (AP) — Ludwig Lightburn, one of the bright hopes of the stagnant lightweight division, goes after his seventh straight victory tonight.

The 21-year-old contender from British Honduras is a 2-1 choice to get it at Algerian Hoacine Khalfi's expense in a 10-round over TV at 10 p. m.

Khalfi represents one of the notches of Luddy's belt. The rangy youngster with the picture-punching style and fast hands trounced the 28-year-old Algerian five months ago.

One of Lightburn's recent victims was Ralph Dupas, second-ranking contender from New Orleans. Khalfi's last outing resulted in a split decision loss to Dupas in New Orleans Feb. 20.

Meet, "I will run the mile in two sections. Conceivably Santee could run all alone in his section."

Atlanta High Holds Athletic Fete Tonight

Athletes, cheerleaders, managers, and coaches will be honored at Atlanta High School's annual athletic banquet scheduled for 6:30 p. m. tonight in the high school auditorium.

Dr. James Hull of Columbus, one-time All-American basketball star at Ohio State University, now widely known as a public speaker, will address the gathering.

Warren E. Hobbie, superintendent of the school, will welcome fans and introduce the toastmaster, Wendell C. Turner of The Circleville Herald. Turner is a former Atlanta resident and graduate of Atlanta High School.

Letters and awards will be presented to players, cheerleaders and managers by Atlanta Coach Warren E. Hobbie Jr.

Miss Joy Hosler, pianist, will provide dinner music and other musical numbers on the program will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mouser.

Kesseling Paces Pensacola Open

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — The spotlight is on Kerry Kesseling in the second round of the $12,500 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament.

Kesseling, a wiry 27-year-old from Toronto, Canada, parlayed a hot putter into a two-stroke lead over the "old pros" in yesterday's opening round. His 4-under-par 68

Hospital 'Orderly' Is Actually Thief

CLEVELAND (AP) — A thief disguised in the white garb of an orderly roamed through rooms in two West Side Hospitals Wednesday night and stole 10 wallets containing sums ranging from a dollar to $12.

Most of the wallets taken at Lutheran Hospital and St. John's Hospital were found discarded later.

One patient at Lutheran Hospital, Joseph Vanderwerf, 38, woke up while the thief was in his room. Vanderwerf said that man told him he would get a nurse to give him a shot.

GMC brings you the most impressive improvements of all 1956 trucks

Now we can show you these great new GMC's that are further than ever ahead of all others. Their advances not only clinch power supremacy—but reach into fields still unexplored by other truck-makers.

For example, GMC's Road Shock Damper Suspension*—plus a unique new stabilizer—produces in half-ton models a ride comparable to the finest passenger car.

An optional new fast-ratio cruising axle in light-duty GMC's gives you an overdrive's pace and economy without its cost.

Sharply increased engine displacement in both sixes and V8's gives you a power family unsurpassed in the light-duty field. Specifically, we offer 14.4% GREATER displacement on 6-cylinder models, 16.2% on V8's than our nearest competitors. And GMC V8's, mind you, match the shortest stroke ratios in the truck industry.

Styling is well into the future—panoramic windshield to sand-tight tail gate. Tubeless tires, of course. And a 12-volt electrical system is standard. These are some of the strides presented in new 1956 Blue Chip trucks we now have on view. The values are even more notable. Come in and get the facts!

Damages Sought As Dog Drops Dead

LOS ANGELES — A 60-pound airedale dropped dead of a heart attack when two smaller dogs barked at him, his owners contend in asking $2,995 damages for his death.

Playwright Myron C. Fagan and his son Bruce, owner of the dog named Magee brought the action against Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lee Smith. The Smiths' dogs are identified as a 4-year-old terrier and a 7-month-old mixed breed.

Damages Sought As Dog Drops Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 60-pound airedale dropped dead of a heart attack when two smaller dogs barked at him, his owners contended in asking $2,995 damages for his death.

Playwright Myron C. Fagan and his son Bruce, owner of the dog named Marge, brought the action against Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lee Smith. The Smiths' dogs are identified as a 4-year-old terrier and a 7-month-old mixed breed.

Countians Fail To Take Advantage Of Free Salk Polio Serum

Available Now At Health Office In Courthouse

Pregnant Women, Children 1 To 10 Eligible For Shots

Pickaway Countians by the droves are failing to take advantage of the Salk Polio vaccine program, according to the county health department.

Free serum is available for children 1-10 and pregnant women, provided by the federal government. So far, however, most of the 400 two-shot doses remain in the department's refrigerator.

"The serum can be obtained in two ways," according to county health director Dr. A. D. Blackburn. "First, a private doctor may administer it but only charge for his own services, not for the serum. Second, we will give the shots entirely free any Saturday morning at our office in the Courthouse."

The only restriction on the free serum is that it will not be given to anyone who has already had the first two shots.

DR. BLACKBURN explained that more than 700 first and second graders received two free inoculations last year in the schools. The third or booster shot was supposed to have been taken at least seven months after the second one and it was to be at private expense.

County health nurse Helen Pickens said there seems to be some apathy towards taking the shots now. She said they might be reluctant to take the shots for two reasons:

"1. Fear—because of the mix-up and rush last year, many parents did not want to let their children take the shots because some batches of the vaccine actually produced the disease.

"2. Insufficient knowledge — many people have let bad publicity overshadow the benefits the serum is known to have; also the thought that polio does not strike hard here."

Dr. Blackburn said there is absolutely nothing to be afraid of in the vaccine now. The trouble which cropped up last year—due in a large part to "pressure" from the outside—have all been eliminated, he noted.

"I urge everyone eligible to take the shots," Dr. Blackburn said. "When you have something which will ward off this crippling disease it seems odd that people don't take advantage of it."

COUNTY HEALTH nurse Pickens said that some people apparently think there were so few cases of polio here that it would be a waste of time to take the shots.

Judge Is Asked To Double Duties

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche has asked Common Pleas Judge Leland R. Rutherford of Morrow County to serve also as probate judge without additional pay.

The governor acted after the recent resignation of Probate Judge John McMillan who is to become administrative assistant to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Lausche said the county bar association had taken steps to place on November election ballots the question of consolidating the two courts. The association said one judge could handle the work of both courts adequately.

'Medic' To Show Actual Caesarean

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An actual birth by Caesarean section will be shown on film next Monday on NBC's television program Medic. An unidentified mother and father gave permission for the filming of the operation, which lasted about five minutes, and it will be shown from beginning to end, NBC said. The parents will watch the show. It's the first Caesarean to be shown on TV, NBC said.

CLEVELAND (AP)—As a crook-foiler, meat market Manager Frank Wysokil makes a good meat market manager.

Burglars broke into his market, stole $389 from two hiding places and disdainfully left intact a $5 bill in the cash register.

Wysokil, 51, refused to tell the location of his hiding places.

Philippine Chief Sees Naval Tests

MANILA (AP)—A U. S. Navy task force took Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay to sea today to witness a naval demonstration off the southern coast of Luzon island.

The force was made up of three aircraft carriers, a heavy cruiser, and seven destroyers, most of them veterans of the Korean War. Magsaysay saw the exercises from the carrier Shangri-La.

She pointed out that polio can strike almost anywhere at any time.

The supply of serum on hand here will only last until June, Dr. Blackburn warned. He said that now is a good time for all concerned to take the shots, with the second shot coming about 2-4 weeks after the first one.

Dr. Blackburn commented too on the cooperation received in last year's vaccination program. He commended the physicians in the county for their help.

Unless Sen. Byrd Changes Virginia May OK Ike Again

Editor's Note: This is one in a series of stories by the AP's national political reporters who are surveying the situation across the country in the light of President Eisenhower's decision to seek a second term.)

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Most top Democrats agreed today that unless U. S. Senator Harry F. Byrd supports his party's nominee for president this year President Eisenhower probably will carry Virginia again.

Robert Whitehead, a leader of the anti-Byrd faction in the Democratic party, told this reporter that if the rival groups united behind the candidate, "we'd have a good chance of returning the state to the Democratic fold."

Otherwise, he said, "I don't see how we can win." He said Byrd's support is vital to victory.

Byrd refused to support Adlai Stevenson in 1952 because he said he considered Stevenson's views too much the same as former President Truman's on labor, civil rights and other issues. While Byrd did not publicly endorse Eisenhower, the Republican candidate carried the state with a margin of 80,360 votes.

Byrd is keeping silent so far on the newly announced candidacy of Eisenhower and that of Democrat Stevenson, who had Whitehead's open support.

Those close to Byrd say he is not too enthusiastic just now about either Eisenhower or Stevenson in view of developments on the civil rights and racial fronts. But they say he regards Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and New York Gov. Averell Harriman with even less favor. Kefauver is out campaigning for the Democratic nomination. Harriman is an "inactive" candidate.

A check of leading Democrats in Virginia indicates there is little sentiment at this time for a third party. Political observers said a movement in that direction in one section of the state had made little headway elsewhere.

States rights Democrats carried four southern states against Truman in 1948. But they drew only 43,393 votes in Virginia, and Truman carried the state against Republican candidate Thomas E. Dewey by a margin of 200,786 to 172,070.

Byrd spoke up recently with a call to the South for "massive resistance" to U. S. District Court orders carrying out the U. S. Supreme Court decree against segregation in the public schools.

"I believe the people outside the South must wake up and realize that we are not going to accept desegregation calmly," Byrd said. He and other southern Democratic senators are working on a plan to assure their home states of support for any "lawful means" of resisting such orders.

Virginia leaders are going ahead with a proposal aimed at providing public tuition grants for private school education of children whose parents object to racially integrated education.

Developments on integration, including platforms of the two major parties and statements of the candidates, ultimately will determine how Byrd takes his stand, his friends say.

The senator is known to have expressed disappointment over Eisenhower's role leading up to the Supreme Court decision against school segregation and the hand the Justice Department played in asking for it.

Solon, Cop Chief Trade Barbs Over Unleashed Dogs

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two years ago, Councilman Nicholas Sotos of suburban Linndale sponsored legislation which requires owners of dogs to keep them on leashes or pay $50 fines.

Yesterday, Linndale Police Chief Ladimer Lashutka said Sotos was letting his two dogs "run wild" in the suburb.

Snoted Sotos: "I double dare the chief to arrest me. My fox terrier never gets out of the house. My chow has been roaming the streets for 12 years. No one can catch him to a leash. Besides, he doesn't bite."

Vowed the chief: "The next time I get evidence that Sotos' dogs are running loose, I will obtain a warrant and arrest him."

Small Warships Sought At Wedding

MONTE CARLO (AP)—The government of Monaco has asked the United States, France, Italy and Britain to send warships (but small ones) for the marriage of Prince Rainier and Grace Kelly.

The small harbor of the principality can hardly hold a good sized yacht, officials of Monaco said. They would be quite happy if the four invited navies would send along something like a small destroyer or escort craft.

Jeff Davis Highway Marker (And Highway Too) Missing

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific end marker of the Jefferson Davis Highway turned up missing today.

Then, the highway itself couldn't be found.

Allen Perry, city superintendent of parks, was notified by the Daughters of the Confederacy that a bronze plaque was missing from its granite base in the city plaza.

It was placed there May 12, 1926, to mark the "first Pacific terminal of the Jefferson Davis Highway."

And how about the highway itself?

"Don't ask me," said Perry. The police thought vandals may have taken the plaque but could hardly have carried off a highway.

The California State Highway Division searched records here but failed to find anything bearing on Jefferson Davis Highway.

At the San Diego Historical Society, the placing of the plaque was recalled.

The society also recalled that there had been some controversy over highway routes and names and that another monument had been placed in the plaza the same year.

It is still there and inscriptions chiseled into the granite say it was "dedicated by our beloved President, Calvin Coolidge, Nov. 17, 1926," as a "milestone of the Old Spanish Trail from St. Augustine, Fla., to San Diego, Calif."

There is a plaque on the back of the monument from which the Jefferson Davis marker is missing which reads: "May 12, 1926, Dixie Overland Highway Association—Savannah, Ga., to San Diego, Calif."

The plaza information booth, maintained to help visitors, knew nothing about the Jefferson Davis, Dixie or Spanish Trail highways. It advised taking U.S. Highway 80 to Texas and East. "That'll get you there," the man said.

Police Chief Aids In Birthday Fete

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Police Chief Clarence H. It was placed there May 12, 1926, to mark the "first Pacific terminal of the Jefferson Davis Highway."

And how about the highway itself?

"Don't ask me," said Perry. The police thought vandals may have taken the plaque but could hardly have carried off a highway.

The California State Highway Division searched records here but failed to find anything bearing on Jefferson Davis Highway.

At the San Diego Historical Society, the placing of the plaque was recalled.

The society also recalled that there had been some controversy over highway routes and names and that another monument had been placed in the plaza the same year.

It is still there and inscriptions chiseled into the granite say it was "dedicated by our beloved President, Calvin Coolidge, Nov. 17, 1926," as a "milestone of the Old Spanish Trail from St. Augustine, Fla., to San Diego, Calif."

There is a plaque on the back of the monument from which the Jefferson Davis marker is missing which reads: "May 12, 1926, Dixie Overland Highway Association—Savannah, Ga., to San Diego, Calif."

The plaza information booth, maintained to help visitors, knew nothing about the Jefferson Davis, Dixie or Spanish Trail highways. It advised taking U.S. Highway 80 to Texas and East. "That'll get you there," the man said.

Police Chief Aids In Birthday Fete

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Police Chief Clarence H. Morris received a letter from Mrs. Mabel Switzer, Flint, Mich., saying, "Will you please see that my sister receives a nice surprise cake for her birthday." Five dollars was enclosed. Thursday Morris obligingly delivered a cake to Mrs. Josephine Jewett, 61.

Want some Fun and Fast Action?

Come join Buick's THRILL-A-MINUTE CLUB

HERE's the why of it:

There's so much excitement at the wheel of a '56 Buick, we had to do something to accommodate all the folks who want to get in on it. So we set up a little Club to handle matters—and it's for fun and for free.

All you do to join is drive a new Buick—that makes you a member. And all you do to drive this beauty is ask.

From that point on it's pure thrill all the way.

Because then you'll feel the sheer bliss of cradled travel in the best riding Buick yet built—and of a wonderful handling ease in the car with the truest sense of direction yet . . .

Because then you'll tingle with the flash-fast power response that's yours from Buick's big 322-cubic-inch V8 engine—where horsepower and compression ratios hit lofty new peaks, and road command hits a soaring new level . . .

Because then—and only then—will you feel the absolute smoothness and the electrifying action of today's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—where the first inch of pedal travel does new wonders for getaway and cruising and gas mileage—and where flooring the pedal switches the pitch for the most spectacular safety-surge in America today.

So if you want some fun and fast action—if you want to see what it's like to call signals on the most performance-packed automobile in all Buick history—come join our Thrill-A-Minute Club.

As we said, there's nothing else to do for membership except drive a new Buick. And, as we'll gladly show you, there's nothing to match this beauty as a bedrock buy—for we're making the best deals ever on the best Buick yet.

Drop in on us today or tomorrow—press that pedal—and let the thrills fall where they will.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.
